Shaw Plays Host Saturday To

African Liberation Day

BY MISS J. E. HICKS
The Raleigh Citizens Association met on the third Thursday, May 17, at 8 p.m. at the E. Hargett Street YWCA. Ralph Campbell, president, presided.

Since Vernon Malone, chairman of the Education Committee, was not present to make his report, President Campbell commented on several issues. The impoundment of funds by President Nixon has meant a cut in many programs to such an extent that it is difficult to operate. The failure of the legislature to pass a bill for Community Action Programs means that they will no longer exist in many places.

Representative Sam Johnson of Wake, however, did sponsor a bill which permits some human relation programs in Raleigh. Mr. Campbell further stated that he has written letters suggesting the appointment of blacks to vacancies on the boards of Holding Technical Institute and Wake Hospital Authority.

It was rumored that there will be several candidates coming from the black district composed of precincts 19, 20, 22, 25, 26, 34 and 35. RCA has also decided to sponsor a

Mayor Appoints 4 Blacks

Bradshaw
Announces
His Actions

Four blacks were among a group of 28 members appointed by Mayor Tom Bradshaw to the Greater Raleigh Central Area Commission Monday.

Named to the committee were Miss Vivian Irving of Irving-Swain Press, Inc., Lawrence Lindsay, manager of Winston Mutual Life Insurance Company, James E. Coffield, a local bondsman and George Robinson of A&G Associates.

In making the announcement, Mayor Bradshaw said that the purpose of the commission would be to coordinate and implement the STABBED WITH SCISSORS HERE—Here Johnson, Jr., 38, address unlisted, seated with towel around his head, told Officer S. M. Annie at 6:20 p.m. last Saturday, that he went to see his wife (unnamed) at 1724 Eastern Boulevard, (Apollo Heights), and an argument started. He also declared that he and Mrs. Johnson were separated, but said he only wanted to talk to her. At this time, James Artis, Room 9, YMCA, struck Johnson and stabbed him in both the head and back with a pair of scissors, Johnson told "the law." An assault with a deadly weapon was advised by Officer Annie. Mr. Johnson was treated at Wake Memorial Hospital for stab wounds in his head and back. (STAFF PHOTO).

Legal Services Are Dead In Mississippi

WASHINGTON - The acting director of the Office of Economic Opportunity has upheld the veto of the Community Service Association of Jackson, Mississippi - thus killing the program.

Howard Phillips, the acting director of the program, offered no explanation for upholding the veto by Gov. William Waller of the Association grant and the subsequent awarding of a $200,000 grant to a legal services organization set up by the Hinds County Bar Association, which had bitterly opposed the Community Service Association.

The governor had criticized, (See MISSISSIPPI, P. 2)

EDITOR'S NOTE: This column or feature is produced in the public interest with an aim towards eliminating its contents. Numerous individuals have requested that they be given the consideration of overlooking their listing on the police blatter. This we would like to do. However, it is not our position to be judge or jury. We merely publish the facts as we find them reported by the arresting officers. To keep out of the Crime Beat Column, merely means not being registered by a police officer in reporting his findings while on duty. So simply keep off the "blatter" and you won't be in The Crime Beat.

REFUSES TO PAY
Bobby Smith, Washington Terrace, told a cop at 5:25 a.m. Monday of this week, that he picked up a white man, about 30, name and address unlisted, at Rainbow Cab Stand, 300 block of S. East Street, and took him to Bruce Evans' house, 719 E. Davie Street. The cab driver said the man got out and went into the house, but did not emerge to pay Smith the $4.75 owed, shown by the taxi meter. This case is still under investigation. (See CRIME BEAT, P. 3)

'Was Not Bothering Cops:' Mom

BY CHARLES R. JONES

Mrs. Ella Mae Herring, 314 N. Carver Street, came into the offices of The CAROLINIAN early Wednesday and told of an alleged police brutality charge against Raleigh Detective James Aller Privette, who, according to Mrs. Herring's testimony, arrested and beat her son, 24-year-old Eddie Lamont Herring, "just because he was dressed like a woman." The young man's jaw is broken, one arm broken, and he is unable to talk so you can understand him.

NC Shriners Convene In 'Gate City'

GREENSBORO - Proclaimed as the pattern for Regional Gala Day ceremonies, by John Edghill, Imperial Potentate, Shriners and Daughters of Isis, from six states and the District of Columbia, converged on Greensboro, May 17, 18 and 19, for the first annual 2nd Region celebration ever held.

The meeting of the members of the highest Order in Free Masonry was an innovation. It was instituted by Edghill as one of his major projects to generate more interest in his program to promulgate the tenets of the order.

Registration began on the 17th and continued thru the 19th. A spot check revealed that more than 5,000 were on hand Friday night when the meet reached its peak. The opening session was held in the Harrison Auditorium, A&T University, 9-10 a.m. The first public session was also held there. The feature of the public meeting was music. It was hailed as one of the greatest display of musical talent ever presented by a fraternal order.

In order to implement the secret work and bring about better coordination, workshops were conducted by both the Shriners and Daughters, Friday afternoon. The Regional Conference was held following the workshops.

The Talent and Scholarship Pageant was wonderful to behold. The display of art and beauty delighted an appreciative audience. The revelers climaxed an exciting day with a regional ball that had 5,000 participants. Tickets were sold out early Friday.

Saturday activities began as early as 8 a.m. Early risers saw the most fascinating drill competition that made it rough

"No Jobs Are Waiting", Rights Agency Staff Says

WASHINGTON - Employees of the Justice Department's Community Relations Service are not getting the jobs they were promised when a cutback of the agency's staff and funding was announced early this year.

Former Attorney General Richard Kleindienst told the Senate Appropriations Committee last January that staff members of the agency would not lose their jobs and would be placed someplace within the Justice Department or in other federal agencies.

But staff members presented CRS director Ben Holman with a petition asking Justice to place a freeze on outside hiring until all of the agency's dismissed workers are placed with other divisions within the department," the petition said. "We do not seek a confrontation with the department on this issue, but rather feel that it is within our right to question why we have not received any real help or assistance from the department."

"Time is running out. Many staff have already been let go and are now 'pounding the pavement' looking for jobs."

Director Holman reported that there has been a general scramble for jobs among the staff members, even among those not dropped. He insisted, however, that this has not affected their performance.

Conceding that there was a general expectation that the department would place fired staff members, Holman said he had even established a committee within the agency to start an effort of job placement, "but we don't have a permanent job placing capacity and don't have funds to do so."

"As a matter of fact, they thought it was standard procedure that they would get some help," he said in reacting to the employee's petition.

Rev. Jackson Urges NCCU Grads To Seek Out Justice

BY THOMAS H. X. GREENE

DURHAM - Visitors and guests stood in hallways and archways as Chicago activist Rev. Jesse Jackson addressed the 881 graduates in liberal arts, law, and nursing at the 62nd Annual Commencement exercises at North Carolina Central University at 10 a.m. on Sunday, May 20.

University president, Albert Whiting, served as master of ceremonies as he welcomed parents, special guests, and visitors, and later returned to introduce Rev. Jackson, whom he said "needs no introduction to an American audience." President Whiting read the principles of PUSH (People United To Save Humanity), the new organization of which Jackson is both founder and director.

The former director (coordinator) of SCLC's Operation Breadbasket, spoke in casual oratory style on a number of subjects. He began by reflecting the varied emotions which accompany a black graduation, saying he detected a certain "I know I could do", a certain "I'm glad I didn't turn back" in the faces of the graduates. He went on to thank the parents of the graduates for

McKissick To Oxford's Men's Day

OXFORD - It was announced this week that Floyd B. McKissick, founder of Soul City, is to be the speaker this Sunday, May 27, at Men's Day festivities at the First Baptist Church in Oxford.

Attorney McKissick, former director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), and longtime advocate of justice and equality for the poor and the underprivileged, proclaims that Soul City's purpose is to provide neither a commune for the poor, nor a scene for devotees of black power.

It is rather to create a viable community for black and white alike who have been victimized by the failing agricultural economy of the surrounding area, an attempt to provide them with an alternative to the usually futile drift to the big cities of the north and south.

The service is to begin at 11 a.m. and the doors are open to everyone.

State NAACP Reaches New Dimensions Here

Lovers of freedom and enemies of hate have reason to glow over results obtained at the "Mothers' March", held here Sunday and a membership drive, conducted by the Roxboro Branch.

The annual trek of NAACP mothers to the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium, yielded more than $28,000.00, which will be evenly divided between the national office and the office of the State Conference of NAACP Branches, to make a greater thrust for first-class citizenship.

Congressman Parren J. Mitchell, 7th Maryland district, made a blistering attack on President Nixon, whom he charged with a palliating approach, known as "Velvet Racism." He charged that minorities could be lulled to a state of apathy, by the Nixon Administration, with a soothing tune, whose notes echoed thru such despotic words as "busing", "welfare", "crime"
