

Unwed Moms Warned

Names Of Dads Asked By Judges

Masonic Day Hailed

THE CAROLINIAN

North Carolina's Leading Weekly

VOL. 32, NO. 45 RALEIGH, N.C. WEEK ENDING SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1973 SINGLE COPY 15c

N. C. Ex-Marine

FACES DEATH FOR RAPE

For Racial Unity Work

Black Catholics Lauded

'Violent Overtones:' Rev. White

MANTEO - William Percy Daniels, a black 21-year-old Vietnam veteran, went on trial for his life on the charges of rape and kidnap in Manteo, (Dare County), North Carolina Monday, September 10, 1973. The indictment against William

THE BREATH OF LIFE - Winston-Salem, N.C. - Sgt. G. C. Joyce of the Winston-Salem police dept. gives mouth to mouth resuscitation to Delbert Eugene Bennett, after his car crashed and overturned trapping him beneath it, late September 8. Bennett remains in satisfactory condition in local hospital after being treated for severe arm injury. (UPI)

Event Draws Many From Over State

DURHAM - The greatest bond of fraternal ties was demonstrated here Sunday, when officers and members of the three Prince Hall Masonic lodges, together with their auxiliaries, celebrated the birthday of the founder, at Ebenezer Baptist Church.

J. A. Carter, who served as the coordinator, said it was the most successful observance ever put on by fraternal groups. He said he set out to have all the secret order Greek letter bodies assemble to pay homage to the tenets of their respective creeds.

'Won't Let Them Die:' D. McAdams

WASHINGTON, D. C. - Although it has been estimated that 6 to 10 million deaths could occur as a result of the severe drought in the Sahelian region of Africa, this will not be allowed to happen, according to David McAdams of the U. S. Agency for International Development (AID).

McAdams, AID Regional Programs Officer for six nations in Central and West Africa, was interviewed on radio during a recent brief visit in Washington, D. C., from his post in Senegal. In Dakar he directs the regional economic assistance programs in the drought-stricken countries of Mali, Mauritania and Senegal, as well as those in Gambia, Guinea and Sierra Leone. Three other countries - Chad, Niger, and Upper Volta - also are in the drought-afflicted Sahel zone.

Questioned by reporters on the WAMU-FM radio program "Overseas Mission," McAdams said, "Aid is going in." But although he does not wish to think negatively, he added, "It is a fact that people of the stricken area are literally living from meal to meal. If they do not get food, they will be too weak to work and produce in order to help themselves."

The United States, through (See WON'T LET, P. 2)

DAVID McADAMS

State NAACP Plans Meeting Saturday

GREENSBORO - Officers and chairmen of committees of the N. C. State Conference of Branches, NAACP, will meet at the Cosmos Club, 9:30 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 15, 709 E. Market Street. There are two important items on the agenda - the State Conference meeting and the selection of a lobbyist.

The annual meeting of the State Conference, scheduled to be held in Raleigh October 25, 26, and 27, will be programed. It has been quite sometime since the Conference met in the capital city and much interest is being generated due to the new motivation, under the leadership of Rev. C. W. Ward, Kelly M. Alexander, Sr., state president, in issuing the call said that the time has long since past when the NAACP

Two Ladies Are Appreciation Feature Winners

Two ladies saw their names in the September 1 edition of THE CAROLINIAN (although the office was closed), came in Monday and were sent to the businesses under whose ads their names had appeared. Ms. Margaret Melvin, of 826 E. Martin Street, saw her name under the New Bern Avenue Exxon ad, located at 1200 New Bern Avenue, and (See APPRECIATION, P. 2)

Appreciation Money SPOTLIGHT THIS WEEK RHODES FURNITURE INC. For Quality, Inexpensive Merchandise

HARTFORD, Conn. Unwed mothers must disclose the name of the men who fathered their children if ordered by a court, a three-judge Federal panel has decided.

The law, passed in this state last year, requires that the mother name the father of her child only if the state obtained a court order. Only one other state, New Jersey, has a similar law.

Attorneys for the unwed mothers said that this was an invasion of privacy, instead of a right of the state. They likened the practice to forcing a wife to testify against her husband.

But the court ruled against the mothers saying:

"The relationship which these unwed mothers seek to protect from disclosure is emphatically different. There is no privilege to withhold the testimony of a mere paramour."

The State Welfare Department says it will now be able to collect an additional $7 million from absent fathers, since the year-old law has been declared legal.

Chief Judge M. Joseph Blumfeld quoted the U. S. Senate Finance Committee when revealing the majority decision:

"It is essential to make certain that all legally responsible parents of sufficient means make their appropriate contribution to the support of their children."

The mothers' lawyers contended that the state often pursued fathers who did not have the means to support the child and the law forced many mothers on the welfare rolls off them.

Receipt of $686 from the funds of three business corporations, although federal law bars corporations from making political contributions in federal campaigns. The head of one of the firms had personally reimbursed his firm for its $100 contribution but GAO charged that the other $586 in corporate contributions had not been.

Julian Bond To Raleigh On Monday

Young Georgia legislator, Julian Bond, will be the guest speaker at Saint Augustine's College on Monday, Sept. 17 at 8 p.m. in the Emery Health and Fine Arts Building. He will talk from his knowledge of the "new politics."

A founder of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) in 1960, Bond has been through the civil (See J. BOND, P. 2)

JULIAN BOND

Asks Nation's Women To Be More Active

WASHINGTON - Minority women must be more actively involved in the women's movement, and in greater numbers, Carmen R. Maymi, director of the Women's Bureau, said recently. The Labor Department official said the movement must become more sensitive and committed to the problems of dual discrimination - based on

PICNIC SET

All CAROLINIAN newboys and newgirls are invited to a picnic to be held on Saturday, Sept. 15, from 2 until 8 p.m. at the Tee Off Club, located on the Rock Quarry Road Games, eating and soft drinks will highlight the event. Singing will be provided by the Heavenly Gates, a local gospel aggregation. Members of THE CAROLINIAN staff and other chaperones will be present to help the children enjoy the event. Persons needing transportation should call 828-6430 or go by 406 1/2 Hill Street. Ask for Evangelist E. M. Smiley. (See ASKS NATION'S, P. 2)

MANAGER CRIES IN VICTORY - Inglewood, Calif. - Muhammad Ali's trainer, Angelo Dundee (L), cries out "Praise The Lord," as Ali speaks into a microphone after winning a 12 round split decision in a non title bout against Ken Norton. Ali won the split decision in a rematch for the fight held last March in which Ken Norton not only beat Ali, but broke his jaw. (UPI)

General Accounting Office Now Blaming Rep. Chisholm

WASHINGTON - The 1972 Presidential campaign organization of Rep. Shirley Chisholm, D-N.Y., has been charged with four violations of the Federal campaign financing laws by the General Accounting Office.

The allegations were referred to the Justice Department for possible legal action and the office of Rep. Chisholm said she would have no comment until the report had been read.

The Shirley Chisholm for President committee was created in October 1971 to primarily raise funds for her campaign for the Democratic Presidential nomination.

Specifically, the GAO accused the committee of being guilty of the following violations of federal campaign laws:

Failure to keep records of the

Say Many Now Look To 1976

DENVER - (NBNS) - A small, secret meeting between black Democrats and Republicans last week may pave the way for black political unity and a new political strategy.

The meeting, the first time blacks from the two parties had joined in such an effort, was also the first time black elected officials had joined to coordinate black political efforts for the 1976 presidential campaign.

The meeting, deliberately held to 16 persons, was described as preliminary and no decisions were made.

The gathering was arranged by Colorado State Sen. George Brown, Georgia State Rep Julian Bond and Mayor Richard C. Hatcher of Gary, Ind.

One of the primary topics of discussion was the problem of declining interest among blacks in voting. One report presented at the meeting said that blacks "are still essentially without substantial political power and continue to suffer (See MANY LOOK, P. 2)

PEDDLES WARES DOWNTOWN - Montgomery, Ala. - 83-year-old George Shine of Montgomery cracking his homemade whip high above head of his mule, "Annie," travels the downtown area here on his route to peddle melons during the season. Shine and "Annie" travel about 25 miles a day and have been on the route about 16 years. (This took place Monday. (UPI)

Failure to file all of the required reports on receipts and expenditures and inaccurate reporting of balances on a final "termination" report.

GAO said the report showed a negative cash balance of about $6,000 on July 15, 1972, while our audit indicated a positive cash balance of over $18,000 on that date.

Failure to appoint and report the name of a responsible chairman of the committee, although Mrs. Chisholm's husband, Conrad, had control of all committee receipts and expenditures.

Receipt of $686 from the funds of three business corporations, although federal law bars corporations from making political contributions in federal campaigns. The head of one of the firms had personally reimbursed his firm for its $100 contribution but GAO charged that the other $586 in corporate contributions had not been.

The National Office of Black Catholics, representing the interests of over 1,000,000 American black Catholics, far from being divisive, is working in the direction of unity for all in the Church.

Leo Francis, editor of the influential National Catholic Register, emphasizes these points in an editorial in the Sept. 2 issue of the 54 year old, independent weekly. Commenting on an explanation by NOBC leaders at the organization's recent convention at New Orleans that it is "not involved in forming some kind of splinter movement within or outside the Church," Francis observes that "why the National Office of Black Catholics has to keep making this denial is difficult to understand."

He points out that there are separate organizations of Polish, Czech, German and Italian Catholics in the United States, and that "no one suggests that these groups are dividing the unity of the Church."

If ethnic groups have the right to organize then why shouldn't black Catholics have (See CATHOLICS ARE, P. 2)

NAACP MEET

The Raleigh-Apex Chapter of the NAACP will hold its regular monthly meeting at Rich Park in Method at 4 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 16.

Please come out and join in our discussions and plannings.

dates when contributions of more than $100 were received, as well as the occupations of the donors and their business address as required by law.

The National Office of Black Catholics, representing the interests of over 1,000,000 American black Catholics, far from being divisive, is working in the direction of unity for all in the Church.

Leo Francis, editor of the influential National Catholic Register, emphasizes these points in an editorial in the Sept. 2 issue of the 54 year old, independent weekly.

Commenting on an explanation by NOBC leaders at the organization's recent convention at New Orleans that it is "not involved in forming some kind of splinter movement within or outside the Church," Francis observes that "why the National Office of Black Catholics has to keep making this denial is difficult to understand."

He points out that there are separate organizations of Polish, Czech, German and Italian Catholics in the United States, and that "no one suggests that these groups are dividing the unity of the Church."

If ethnic groups have the right to organize then why shouldn't black Catholics have (See CATHOLICS ARE, P. 2)

Please come out and join in our discussions and plannings.

Over 200 NC Baptists At Sessions

On Tuesday of last week, over 200 people, representing the General Baptist State Convention of N. C., left on a United Airlines DC-8 to attend the National Baptist Convention of the U. S. A., Inc., in Los Angeles. Accompanying the group was Dr. O. L. Sherrill, executive secretary of the state convention, and Dr. C. R. Edwards, president of the body and pastor of the First Baptist Church, Fayetteville.

The remaining members of the group represent pastors and lay persons from baptist churches throughout the state. The plane originated at the Raleigh-Durham Airport, stopped in Charlotte to pick up additional passengers, and (See OVER 200, P. 2)