

'Swing' Vote In Key Busing Decision

May Cast Ballot For Act

National Black News Service

WASHINGTON - The man who will probably cast the key vote in an important school busing case is likely to be Justice Lewis F. Powell, Jr., who believes busing is "the single most disruptive element in education today."

Powell, formerly a member of the Richmond, Va. School Board, undoubtedly holds the vote which may be cast to ensure an anti-busing viewpoint the law of the nation.

Since the High Court has agreed to rule on the controversial Detroit case, which permits city-suburban school mergers, the ruling is expected to be - unlike the Richmond School case last May - binding on any other desegregation case.

If Powell joins the other four justices who voted against busing in Richmond, which is quite likely, the decision will effectively bar city-suburban busing throughout the country.

The Detroit case has been brought to the court by Michigan Governor William Milliken Jr. The 52 suburban jurisdictions involved in the case.

Last June, Powell made his feelings on busing quite clear in an opinion dealing with the Denver desegregation case. He joined the court in January 1972.

He wrote it was a "far-reaching remedy" when used to maximize school integration, one that may have "the gravest economic and educational consequences."

"Any child, white or black, who is compelled to leave his neighborhood and spend significant time each day being transported to a distant school, suffers an impairment of his liberty and his privacy," Powell asserted.

"There is nothing in the Constitution, its history or until recently - in the jurisprudence of this court, that mandates the employment of forced transportation of young and teenage children to achieve a single interest (Max- (See 'SWING' VOTE, P. 2)

Cite Political Leaders

THE CAROLINIAN

North Carolina's Leading Weekly
VOL. 33 NO. 4 RALEIGH, N.C. WEEK ENDING SATURDAY, DEC. 1, 1973 SINGLE COPY 15c

'Scared To Death'

City Girl Says When She Saw Pistol, She Was Almost

Saint Augustine's College To Host

Narcotics, Drug Seminar

Officer's Side Is Explained

BY CHARLES R. JONES

"When I saw that officer pointing his gun at me and telling me to bring my a...out of the closet in my mother's bedroom, I was almost scared to death," said Miss Alfred Annette Talley, 14-year-old resident of 617 Grantland Drive in the Apollo Heights section of the city. Miss Talley's brother, Joseph Green, had brought to the attention of this newspaper last Tuesday, what he considered to be undue police harassment of five minor children by Raleigh Police Officer R. N. Hogg, who is white.

However, after scheduling a meeting with Major Edgar C. Duke and Lt. Bruce E. Tucker of the Police Department's Human Relations Area, it was learned that Officer Hogg and his partner, Officer C. K. Womble, were searching the residence in a futile effort to locate their brother, Kenneth Earl Green, on charges of assault with a deadly weapon and larceny of his own 1973 Buick Regal at Al Smith Buick Company on the afternoon of Monday, Nov. 19.

According to the reports made in Monday afternoon's half hour meeting, it was brought out by the two officers and confirmed by three of the children involved, that the two cops appeared at their home on three different occasions that day.

On the first arrival, the officers were met by their mother and older sister, Mrs. Rethea Green Talley and Mrs. Rosa G. Wiggins, who talked to them outside the house and assured them that Kenneth was not at the house. The officers then left, but returned about dark, knocked at the door, received no answer, then left again. However, about 6 eastern Region will honor political leaders in an awards dinner at the Sir Walter Hotel Saturday, Dec. 1, at 6 p.m. Dr. Jeremiah Floyd, director of Urban and Minority Affairs, Evanston, Illinois, will be the

CRIME BEAT
From Raleigh's Official Police Files

EDITOR'S NOTE: This column of feature is produced in the public interest with an aim towards eliminating its contents. Numerous individuals have requested that they be given the consideration of overlooking their listing on the police blatter. This we would like to do. However, merely to publish the facts as we find them is not our business to judge or jury. We report out of the Crime Beat Column, merely means not being registered by a police officer in reporting his findings while on duty. So simply keep off the "blatter" and you won't be in the Crime Beat.

DR. JEREMIAH FLOYD Appreciation Checks Won By Man And Woman

Two persons claimed their checks in The CAROLINIAN's Appreciation Money Feature last week and a third winner came in, but was about four hours too late. It is important for our readers to know that the deadline for identifying your-

APPRECIATION, P. 2 (See CRIME BEAT, P. 3)

Appreciation Money SPOTLIGHT THIS WEEK LONGVIEW PHARMACY

Where Prescription Specialists Abound!

STARVING TO DEATH - Ethiopia - With skin barely covering her bones, emaciated women are treated by German doctor Dietrich Schmooll at campsite in province of Wollo here recently. About 1,000 persons a day are reportedly dying of starvation with a total of two million persons suffering from drought-caused hunger. (UPI)

Elks Of Wilson Observe 50th Anniversary With Celebration

BY W. A. "PETE" WILDER
WILSON - The Ark of the Covenant Temple No. 214 of Wilson, celebrated its 50th birthday recently in a long-to-be-remembered celebration. It was documented too. The original charter was read and given to the Daughter Ruler, Addie Morgan by Bro. Alton Bobbitt, secretary of Marshall Lodge No. 297.

Significant to all was the name of the late J. Finley Wilson, signally honored, also was Mrs. Fannie Chester, the last living charter member and Mrs. Eva Baker, who has had more years of service as Exalted Ruler. History recorded shows that the temple has had only 10 Daughter Rulers in its entire history. Daughter Morgan took time out to talk about and name members of the local temple who are well known in the state offices.

(See ELKS OF P. 2)

Kinston To Honor Dr. Boone

KINSTON - Officers and members of the First Baptist Church, in appreciation for the services rendered by their pastor, Dr. R. Irving Boone, have designated Sunday, Dec. 2, as "Appreciation Day."

A special program has been arranged for 7 p.m., when the assistant superintendent of Public Instruction, Dudley E. Flood, Raleigh will be the principal speaker. Both local and state personalities will also

(See DR. BOONE, P. 2)

Cape Fear Workers In Annual NC Convocation

WILLOW SPRINGS - The Workers Department of the Cape Fear "A" Conference, of the United Freewill Baptist Church, held their annual convocation in conjunction with the annual conference, recently at the St. Anna Church, Willow Springs. Bishop M. N. McLean of Fayetteville, is the presiding officer of Cape Fear. Mrs. Eva Minter is supervisor of the Worker's Department and the Rev. I. T. Ford is pastor of historic St. Anna Church. Mrs. Nannie

Evans of Dunn, served as narrator. Theme of the convocation was In Pursuit of Peace, Courage, and Love In The 70's. The ladies, attired in bright red dresses with white corsages, created a colorful scene for the occasion. The Bethlehem Freewill Baptist Church choir of Willow Springs furnished the music. Mrs. M. M. Williams read the scripture. Mrs. Minnie McNeill offered prayer. Words of welcome (See CAPE FEAR, P. 2)

Shaw Gets Over 100Gs In Grants

Shaw University president, J. Archie Hargraves, announced Tuesday, that the institution has been awarded a grant of $100,000 by the Lilly Endowment, Incorporated of Indianapolis, Indiana. The first payment of the grant, $50,000, was forwarded to Dr. Hargraves today by Dr. James B. Holderman, vice president for Education for the Lilly Endowment.

Dr. Holderman stated that the grant was awarded for support of Shaw's program for high school dropouts at the collegiate level.

Dr. Hargraves, also announced Tuesday that the ESB Foundation has awarded the institution a grant of $2,000.

The ESB Foundation has been established as a charitable foundation by ESB, Incorporated.

According to Mr. James P. Malloy, foundation representative, the grant was made to assist in the institution's development program.

BANK ROBBERY SUSPECTS NABBED - Falls, TWP - Falls Twp., Bucks County police, track two other suspects in a Bucks County bank robbery Nov. 23. In the picture on the ground are the alleged suspects, Edward Fields and Stephen Smallwood, both of Philadelphia. (UPI)

BITTEN BY DEADLY COBRA - Philadelphia - Carmen Hicks (photo), 15, of Philadelphia, is still on the critical list at an area hospital after being bitten by a deadly cobra in his home here Nov. 23. The amateur zoologist was bitten on the thumb and rushed to the hospital where a serum from the Philadelphia Zoo was given to save the youth. In photo, a snake expert, Arnold Stocker, puts the Naja Naja cobra into a bag. (UPI)

Dr. Jeremiah Floyd Is Leaders' Speaker Sat.

The Undergraduate Phi Beta Sigma Workshop of the South-

DR. JEREMIAH FLOYD Appreciation Checks Won By Man And Woman

Two persons claimed their checks in The CAROLINIAN's Appreciation Money Feature last week and a third winner came in, but was about four hours too late. It is important for our readers to know that the deadline for identifying your-

APPRECIATION, P. 2 (See CRIME BEAT, P. 3)

Appreciation Money SPOTLIGHT THIS WEEK LONGVIEW PHARMACY

Where Prescription Specialists Abound!

One-Day Seminar Tuesday

St. Augustine's College, as a source of community leadership, will sponsor its second Narcotics and Drug Education and Information Seminar on the campus on Tuesday, Dec. 4, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Boyer Building. The general session will be held in room 011. Dr. Rudy Lombard, administrator, Howard University Institute on Drug Abuse and Addiction, Freedman's Hospital in Washington, D.C., will address the group at the 9:30 meeting.

Concurrent sessions will begin at 11 a.m. on topics as follows: "New Techniques for Rehabilitating the Addicted," room 111, consultant, Harold Lawson, research psychologist, Walter Reed Army Institute of Research, coordinator, Wanzo Hendrix, instructor, department of sociology and

(See NARCOTICS, P. 2)

Veteran Minister Is Buried

CHARLOTTE - Greenville Tabernacle AME Zion Church, was the scene of fitting rites for Dr. Frank Robert Blakey, who spent 66 of his 87 years as a minister in his chosen denomination, Wednesday. The veteran preacher succumbed to an extended illness on Thanksgiving morning.

The eulogy was delivered by Bishop W. M. Smith. He was assisted by Bishop W. A. Hilliard. The Rev. A. C. Hunicutt was in charge.

There were many expressions from persons who have known, revered and respected the dynamic leader. He was pictured as a man who might not agree with you but was always agreeable in an effort to agree. He attended the 1912 General Conference, held here, and has been in constant attendance since.

There were those who termed him as a stormy debater, but very few who would say that he was not a man of strong convictions.

He was a native of Alabama and attended Tuskegee Institute and Gammon Theological Seminary. He held a Doctor of Divinity degree from Livingstone College. He pastored in Ala., La., Miss. and N.C. At the time of his death, he was the presiding elder of the North Charlotte District, having served in that capacity for 10 years.

He attributed his success to his wife, Watty Ann, whom he married 64 years ago. The first born was Durocher L., who followed in the ministry. The son will be remembered as an outstanding pastor and churchman. It was under his administration that the AME Zion Publication House was built.

(See LAST RITES, P. 2)