

Hebrew Academy Spring Event

Bob Bernhardt, president of the Hebrew Academy, announced that Arlene Shapiro will be in charge of tickets and reservations for the Hebrew Academy's Spring event.

Torah Readers at the Academy

Much thanks to Moshe Ravivi, Cantor Frank Birnbaum, Lenny Fox and Arthur Tirsun who read the Torah portion at the school's Thursday morning service.

Special Activities at the Academy

Recently the kindergarten class went to the Nature Museum and attended their program on dinosaurs. The first graders have learned a song about an aniyah (boat) and have begun to read the blessings for wine, fruit, vegetables and bread. Children from the second grade have been learning about Norway as part of their social studies unit. They had the pleasure (or displeasure, for some) of tasting sardines from Norway and learned a Norwegian game. The third, fourth and fifth graders have been taught about carbohydrates and starches in foods. Perhaps this will enable them to help some of their dieting parents.

Trip to Hezekiah Alexander House

Recently the children of the Academy (all except the kindergarten class) took a trip to Hezekiah House. The first and second graders viewed an exhibit of colonial toys and the third, fourth and fifth graders made candles and learned about the history of candlemaking.

Havdallah Service

During November and December students attended the Temple Israel sponsored Havdallah services which were held in various homes.

Story About Hebrew Academy

In the November/December issue of Charlotte magazine is an article about Charlotte's private schools. Included in the article is a short discussion of the Hebrew Academy, its present status and future goals.

The Charlotte Jewish News is pleased to announce that we have two, not one, winners of the Chanukah Coloring Contest. The judges had a difficult time deciding between the two finalists, and so decided to award two prizes instead of one. The winners are: Jonathon Simon, son of Marcia and Paul Simon and Laurie Klugman, daughter of Randee and Warren Klugman. They both will be awarded $10 of Chanukah "gelt." Congratulations Laurie and Jonathon!

January 17

BBYO

By Jodi Mond

At the time of this writing everyone is anxiously awaiting the Regional BBYO Convention to be held in Winston-Salem at the Hyatt House. Next month I will report on all of the activities that took place there and hopefully all the awards that we will be taking back to Charlotte.

MITS

Chaverim and Chai BBG recently had a joint induction of their MITS (members-in-training). Each MIT received a white carnation as a token of the evening. Chosen as the outstanding MITS were Audrey Jankowitz of Chai and Jodi Mond of Chaverim. They were also presented with white roses.

Fund-Raising

The girls were very busy during December doing gift wrapping at the Charlotte B'nai B'rith Women's gift wrap booths. The MITs from Chaverim also manned booths at the JCC Mac-cabead Festival.

News from Aberman

The boys from Mickey Aberman AZA had a bowl-a-thon during December. The chapter also had a sleep-over at Mike Phillip's house which was chaperoned by Irving Mond, their new advisor. Another one was also held at Donald Anoff's

Special Program

On December 6 Chai and Chaverim had a joint meeting with a special program on sex. Maddy (Mrs. Robert) Stein, who is also an advisor for Chaverim, conducted the program.

This 'n That

Janet Liss, daughter of Ron Liss, has been appointed Youth Director at Temple Israel, Boston, Massachusetts.

Adina Hirschman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hirschmann, a student at East Carolina University, has been assigned her practice teaching this semester. She will be specializing in speech, language and auditory pathology at Contentnea School in Kinston, N.C.

Lee Diamond has been designated a Chartered Life Underwriter by the American College of Chartered Life Underwriters. Lee is a partner in Scepter Group, Ltd.

Rabbi Harold Krantzler was elected president of the Charlotte Area Clergy Association. He is the only Jewish member of the group.

Michael Chase, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Chase, who recently graduated from the Wharton School of Business and Finance, U. of Pennsylvania, is working at Banker's Trust in Columbia, S.C.

Natalie (Mrs. Norman) Cohen has been reappointed by Governor Hunt to the 20 member board of the N.C. Council on the Status of Women. Her team will expire on June 30, 1982.

Jamie Steinberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Steinberger, has been elected to the National Beta Club and is the president of the Pep Club at Carmel Junior High. Jamie also went to France with her French Club during the Christmas holiays.

Carolina Jewish Singles

Carolina Jewish Singles has "gotta deal ya can't refuse" on January 3, 1982 at Godfather's Pizza, Park Road Shopping Center. For $4.50 M; $6.00 N/M you'll have an opportunity to sink your teeth into some pizza, have a beer or two and sit back for a short program. Bob Abel will present "Taxes and the Single Person" including the new tax laws passed by the 1981 Congress and how they affect singles. RSVP with Sara Schreiber, director of JCC adult programming, at the JCC (366-0357).

A second CJS event will be held January 24. It is timed to coincide with the "Super Bowl". Details will be forthcoming.

Two outstanding events were held in December. The first was a program on "Sex and the Single Person." Some 35 persons attended the program at the Center to hear facilitators Wilma Asrael and Barbara Huberman explore the various emotions and questions that surround this controversial subject. The last event of the year for the newly organized CJS was an "Italian Night" at the Foxfire Apartments. The covered dish affair was well attended and gave further indication that CJS is on the right track.

The executive committee is hoping for even greater turnouts in 1982.
