One Million Dollars To Give Project Everything Community Requests To Be Totally Met

Dear Sharers of the Dream:

Our architects and contractors are working non-stop to get us into the new facility. All of the figures are now in for the increased size and scope of the Project which now provides each and every feature you asked for as listed below.

As a result of the increase, we are $1,000,000 short of the necessary total, and we have begun a "new" campaign to raise the money.

TOGETHER WE WILL BE SUCCESSFUL!
But... it is necessary that each one of us increase our commitment.

Come forward! Drop me a note or give me a call at 333-6694. I know you will respond for the sake of our future. I will keep you up to date with bulletins on the program of our "Million Dollar Drive."

Federation Makes Great Strides

By Stan Greenspon

In deference to the Foundation campaign and the JCC class schedule, the Federation supplement will appear in the next issue of the Charlotte Jewish News.

I am pleased to have this opportunity to report the progress that your Charlotte Jewish Federation has achieved this past year.

When I assumed the Presidency in November 1983, I committed myself (with the support of my executive committee) to specific goals and objectives. Let me review these goals with you now:

• The General Campaign — Objective for the 1984-85 Campaign was to increase from $760,000 to $1,000,000. Although we were not successful in reaching the dollar total, in many ways we were more successful. We had a campaign increase of 20% over the previous year; more people made pledges than ever before; many more volunteers gave tirelessly of themselves; the enthusiasm which was generated through these activities will carry us on a positive note to the 1985-86 Campaign.

• Federation's role with other local agencies — Our goal was to become more involved with the working boards and the various agencies the Federation helps to fund. We wanted to "do more" than just make financial allocations. Federa-

JCC Planning Institute To Take Place Sept. 16

The Jewish Community Center will begin its phase-in process with a planning institute developed in conjunction with the Jewish Welfare Board. The institute will help introduce participants to this exciting process while providing direction to the 22 administrative, financial and program committees involved. The recommendations that flow from these committees will be utilized to establish both a program plan and organizational structure for the new center. The phase-in process should culminate next year with the development of a program guide operational budget, and a community-wide membership campaign.

The institute on September 16 will begin at 9:30 a.m. and include an address by Mitch Jaffe of JWB focusing on the experiences of various communities in North America which have recently constructed new center buildings.

A lay leader from either Tulsa, Oklahoma or Palisades, New Jersey will evaluate the overall planning and subsequent occupancy of a new 'J' in their particular community. After a question and answer session, Bill Gorelick will discuss the
