

FACIAL PLEASURES
By Lillian
 Simply the Finest European Facials in Charlotte... See for Yourself

30% OFF
 Reg. $45
NOW $32

J.R. Renditions Salon
 110 W. Matthews St. Matthews, NC
841-8800

RENTALS SALES

Party Reflections
 DIVISION of CHAIR & EQUIPMENTALS
 804 CENTRAL AVE. CHARLOTTE, NC 28204
 Dan Hooks (704) 32-817

Avoid the retail store hassles and enjoy a 15% discount too!

Personalized invitation consultation in a quiet, relaxed setting

Invitations, etc.

- Wedding Invitations
- Bar/Bat Mitzvah Invitations
- Unique Selections
- Traditional & Contemporary Designs
- Calligraphy Services Available
- Evening & Weekend Appointments

Mary Gordan 847-0420
 Judy Kaufmann 364-0046

Grodzicki & Co
 Announces

The Opening of Its Second Location
 Nationsbank Bldg. — 100 N. Tryon St.
 Founder's Hall

Gifts For All Occasions
 China-Crystal-Linens
 Bridal Registry

Full line stationers Hand Calligraphy
 Party Supplies-Candy

Founder's Hall 376-6888
 611 Providence Rd. 334-7300

WE'LL HELP YOU SET THE TABLE.

Send the FTD® Autumn Harvest™ Bouquet. Just call or visit us today. Thanksgiving is Thursday, November 26.

It's as easy as

COTSWOLD FLORIST
 800-821-6504 601 S. Sharon Amity 365-8806

Engagement & Wedding Announcements

Wilson-Shimberg

Marc and Nancy Wilson of Charlotte announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Michelle Wilson, to Clifford Roy Shimberg of Charlotte. The groom-elect is the son of Miriam and Irwin Shimberg of Mint Hill. A March 20 wedding is planned at the Belk Chapel at Queens College.

Shea-Citron

Mindy Allyson Citron and James Edwin Shea Jr. were married Sept. 19 in Charleston, SC.

The bride is the daughter of Myrna Citron and Martin Citron, both of Charlotte. She is a news reporter and anchor with WCSC-TV in Charleston.

The groom is the son of Elizabeth Shea of Charleston and the late James Shea. He is a graduate of Murray High School and Trident Technical College. He is a traffic coordinator with Westinghouse Electric Corp. in Charleston. The couple live in Charleston.

Shea

Greenfield-Stanley

Julie Diane Stanley and Dr. Russell Howard Greenfield were married Sept. 20 at Temple Beth El.

The bride is the daughter of Betty and James Stanley of Charlotte. She is a graduate of Garinger High School, Appalachian State University and Central Piedmont Community College. She is a registered nurse with Carolinas Medical Center.

The groom is the son of Sophie Greenfield of Greensboro and the late Alexander Greenfield. He is a graduate of Jericho High School, Brandeis University and the Chicago Medical School. He is on the faculty of the department of emergency medicine with Carolinas Medical Center.

Greenfield

Lerner-Martin

Donna Martin and Gary Lerner were married on Aug. 23 at the Emerald Hills Country Club in Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

The bride is the daughter of Susan and Dr. Joel Martin of Hollywood, Florida. She received a BA from Smith and did her graduate studies at UNC-CH. She is employed in Environmental Health.

The groom is the son of Lynn and Paul Edelstein and the late Sam Lerner of Charlotte. He received his BA degree from Emory University and is studying for his MBA at George Washington University.

This wedding will long be remembered by the wedding party and guests as it took place during the time of Hurricane Andrew. What a way to start a honeymoon! They did, however, manage to leave the next day on their honeymoon trip to Santa Fe, New Mexico.

The couple live in Arlington, VA.

(Cont'd on next page)

The Best Wedding Plans Begin With Carolina Bride

To Receive a Copy Call 334-0847

Also available at Eckerd's, Harris Teeter, International Newsstand & others

1819 Lyndhurst Avenue • Charlotte, NC 28208

Jews of Georgia

(cont'd from page 7)

the Black Sea, whose natives are Sunni Moslems; Ajar (Atchar), north of Turkey with its capital, Batumi, whose natives are Turkish Moslems; and South Ossetia, in the Caucasian foothills, with its capital in Takhinvali, whose natives are Indo-Iranian.

Georgia — History

Christianity was introduced in Georgia in 330 CE and despite a sizable Moslem minority, the country remains predominantly Christian. The Georgian language, one of the Caucasian group, has an ancient literary tradition.

The country enjoyed a golden age in the 12th century, which ended with the Mongol invasion in 1220. By the 15th century, the united monarchy had disintegrated into squabbling principalities under the hegemony alternately of Turkey and Persia. This situation continued until the 19th century when the area fell under Russian dominance; Russian hegemony prevailed, with the exception of a short period of independence in 1918-21, until the recent disintegration of the USSR.

On April 9, 1991, the then president of Georgia, Gamsakhurdia, declared the country's independence, and with independence came the call to disband the autonomous regions.

The autonomous region of South Ossetia had already initiated its bid to secede from Georgia and join the Soviet Union, and bitter fighting broke out in January 1991 when Georgian militia were sent to quash secessionists. The situation in Ossetia is now under control, but the threat of renewed tensions remains.

Skhumi, a popular Black Sea resort for the privileged in the former USSR, was the center of conflict during the recent outbreak of hostilities in Abkhazia. Abkhazians have nevertheless been persistent in their demands over the years and the recent strife is seen as part of the historic conflict between the secessionist Abkhazians and the central government in Georgia.

It is generally believed that the central government will use all necessary force to maintain a united Georgia and that secessionists in South Ossetia and Abkhazia are unlikely to relinquish their aims. Both of these groups receive support from the Russian side of the border, guaranteeing a continuation of the conflicts.

Attention Parents

The Charlotte Jewish News would like to send the paper to your children attending out-of-town schools. There is no charge for this service. Please keep us informed of any change in their address. Please fill out the coupon below; drop off at JCC front desk or mail to: CJN, PO Box 13369, Charlotte, NC 28270.

Name _____
 Street or PO # _____
 City _____
 State _____ Zip _____