Rosh Hashanah Recipe

From the National Honey Board

When choosing honey for your Rosh Hashanah feast, remember that lighter-colored honeys are milder in flavor than darker-colored ones. For kugel, select a mild honey variety, like clover or orange blossom. A bolder honey, like buckwheat or eucalyptus, is good for sweet desert breads or cakes that pack sweetness and distinct honey flavor into every bite.

Honey-Kissed Carrot Zucchini Kugel

- 1/2 cup water
- 1 1/2 cups grated carrots
- 1 1/2 cups grated zucchini
- 1 medium onion, finely diced
- 3 eggs, separated
- 1/4 cup honey
- 1 1/2 cups peeled and grated potato
- 1 cup matzo meal
- 1 tablespoon chopped fresh dill (optional)
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon ground pepper

Combine water, carrots, zucchini and onion in medium saute pan. Simmer until vegetables are soft, about 4 minutes.

Cool slightly. In large bowl, whisk egg yolks with honey. Stir in cooked vegetables, potato, matzo meal, dill, salt and pepper. In separate bowl, beat egg whites until stiff peaks form. Fold 1/3 egg whites into vegetable mixture; gently fold in remaining egg whites. Put into well-greased 9-inch square baking dish. Bake at 400 degrees or until kugel is puffed and golden brown. Enjoy! Makes 4 servings.

YOU AND YOUR SPOUSE HAVE SHARED EVERYTHING NOW SHARE THE CARE.

Roz Greenspon

With John Hancock's new SHARED CARE option, you and your spouse can take advantage of long-term care insurance that lets married couples share each other's benefits. When you buy John Hancock's long-term care insurance and elect the SHARED CARE option, you'll find that:

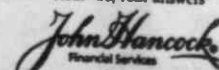

- SHARED CARE provides maximum coverage when one spouse needs more benefits than the other.
- SHARED CARE is flexible; when you need care, your spouse needs care, or both of you need it at the same time.
- SHARED CARE is state-of-the-art.

Wouldn't it be great to let your spouse use your benefits if he or she had exhausted their own? That's what SHARED CARE is all about. Find out more.
