

Landmark Judaic Poetry Work Published

Philadelphia—One of the most beautiful works of Judaic poetry published in the last half-century has just been released by Xlibris Corporation of Philadelphia.

Redolent of Biblical and classic Hebraic love poetry, yet exuding echoes of the contemporary

Brandon Marlon

Jewish condition, Inspirations of Israel: Poetry for a Land and People is a marvelous tour de force that will delight literary palates everywhere.

This remarkable oeuvre is authored by 28-year old Brandon Marlon, winner of the 2007 Canadian Jewish Playwriting Competition, who now makes his home in Jerusalem.

Marlon, who comes from an observant Jewish home, is a graduate of the University of Toronto with a B.A. in Drama, and studied at the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York and the WUJS Institute in Arad, Israel. In addition to this collection of poetry, he has written numerous screenplays and stage plays on historic and modern Jewish themes.

Inspirations of Israel is spectacular in the breadth of its vistas. History and culture, faith and folklore, landscape and love – Marlon versifies them all.

Capturing its land, people and epochs in romantic expression, this collection of poesy is a lyrical tribute to the epic saga that is Israel. Fresh and insightful, this accomplished work provides searing images and romantic reflections which launch the reader on a voyage of discovery of the timeless people and land called Israel.

Perhaps the most endearing value of this appealing work is the suffusing spirituality that celebrates the Jewish story. Readers will find both the liturgical and sensual sides of this spirituality detailed with great sensitivity.

The arrival of Inspirations of Israel is already being hailed both in America and Israel as a literary event. This is an extraordinary book of poetry that young and old cannot afford to miss.

Trade Paperback - $19.99, Hardback - $29.99.
