Hebrew Highlights

Where does the time go? It is hard to believe that we are about to begin the final Hebrew High session for 5773. This session will be dedicated to Jewish creativity and inspiration. All of our electives will highlight the ingenuity that makes our people (including our students) so special. Following are highlights of some of our courses:

Jewtunes – Students will listen to and perform great pop tunes written by Jewish composers and rock stars. Diverse artists and styles will be explored. The group will share what they've learned in a brief performance at the end of the session.

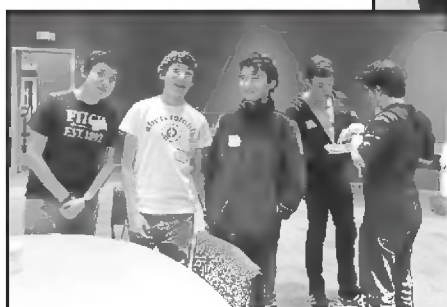

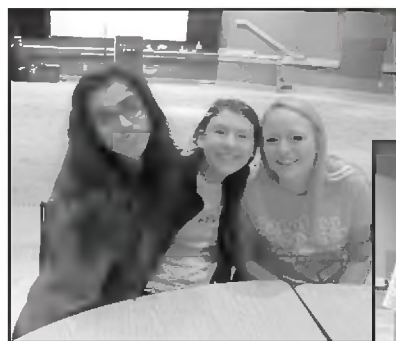

Chopped (liver) - This cooking class will use the format of the popular TV show to encourage students to get creative in the kitchen. Each week, the class will be given a basket of mystery ingredients (one of which will be traditionally Jewish), and be challenged to produce a delicious dessert or appetizer in less than an hour.

Israeli Expressions – During their time together, the teens will learn about Israeli culture, from movies and music to art and food. They will explore initiatives and traditions that will help them understand the tapestry of Israeli life. The students will be introduced to the diversity of the Israeli people, using a world of color and sound.

Writing for Good-Students will be given a chance to express their feelings about being Jewish in this first ever Hebrew High writing elective. Work will be submitted to the Jewish Writing Project and may appear in a national blog! While clarifying their Jewish identities, the students will be introduced to proper grammar, spelling, sentence structure, and figures of speech. This is a great way to get a head start on SAT prep and college entrance essays.

In addition to the classes described above, we will create a Jewish calendar (look for it to go on sale before the new year), investigate the drama of the Tanach, and continue our popular "Hebrew for Credit" class. Hebrew High will finish the year with lots of energy, and exciting Jewish learning. ☆

These kids will all tell you: "Hebrew High -- It's the place to be on Wednesday nights!"
