Film seeks participants

BROUGHTON — Deirdre Leary, a sophomore at Broughton High School, is working on a documentary with a group of other classmates for a film class which focuses on gay marriage and gay/lesbian parents and how they are viewed by society. They are searching for gay/lesbian couples who have adopted and/or ones who has done artificial insemination.

Leary reminds those who wish to participate in this endeavor that they will be on tape and will be asked personal questions.

The film staff is able to travel to do public or private meeting place location interviews. They have fairly flexible schedules.

Questions that the crew and interviewer will ask are:

- What were some of the challenges you faced throughout the adoption process?
- Why was the most difficult challenge faced?
- Were you viewed differently in society?
- How has this experience changed you?

Appointments need to be set up by April 13, with final filming completed on April 20.
