an appetite in yourself for this sort of happiness by starting with little things.

Then, too, if we are to be happy, we must get the spirit of compromise. We must be willing and glad to respect the other man's opinion, whether it agrees with ours or not. Suppose I want to keep a dog, and my neighbor objects to the dog's barking. My neighbor wants to keep chickens, and I object to being crowed out of bed at sunrise. If we are good friends, and are looking for happiness, we compromise. I get goldfish, and he raises rabbits. No man "lives unto himself alone." We have to forego our "cold glass" because the majority of the people have so decreed thru their lawmakers; but at the same time someone else may have to give up his Sunday baseball game because we are with the majority opposing Sunday sport.

MR. BUFFINGTON

In spite of these restrictions on our freedom of action, and in spite of what we may call our bad luck "when everything goes wrong," we all can find something to make us happy if we will look for it. That is the point; look for it! When you come to think of it, aren't the fellows who are able to radiate the sunshine the men who say, "But it might ourselves to look at it that way, aren't we bound to be happier? Think it over.

—R. E. P.

In this issue, we take pleasure in presenting to our friends a new member of our contributing staff—Mr. James R. Henderson, our cartoonist, who is a native of South Carolina, altho his present home is Charlotte. "Jim" has only recently been discharged from service, having been stationed at Richmond, Va., as army cartoonist, and at the Army Headquarters in Chicago in the Military Mapping Service. He is at present working in the Town site drafting room, under Mr. W. J. Neubling.

Tho he is quite young, having just turned twenty-one, Jim has already made a capital start as a cartoonist, in that some of his work has been accepted by the Judge magazine. He has a rare gift of humorous delineation, and we are sure our readers will be as delighted with his work as we are.

And he is, withal, a mighty nice boy. We are glad to have him with us.

The Third Pioneer

Book, Biddix, and Buffington.

The last one of the three B's, taking them in the order of their Badin age, is a native of the Middle West, having been born in Freeport, Ill. It was in this town that he also received his early education. Mr. Buffington's later training was gained in the best of all schools, that of life and experience, especially when the experiences are lived in a new and intensely vital country like the Far West, where he worked before coming to the South.

Mr. Buffington arrived in Badin on August 23, 1913, taking up work with the French Company as Superintendent of Construction on the Town Site job. He was later made Renting Agent for the Aluminium Francais; and it was in this capacity that he continued to work after the Tallassee Power Company took charge, until July 1, 1918.

On this date, Mr. Buffington entered a new field, when he became manager of the Badin Amusement Company. In this position, he has shown a notable readiness to give the people the kind of show they want, and also co-operate with the Company in all endeavors looking toward the public welfare and safety.

Another Pioneer

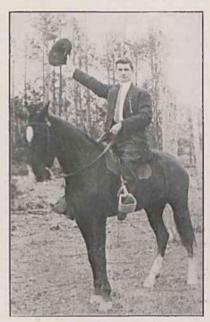

Mr. Charlie Bartini came to Badin in December, 1912. All there was to Badin when Charlie arrived was a few Frenchmen and a couple of log cabins. Charlie landed in the United States in 1907, and went to Chicago, where he worked until 1912. From there he came to Badin. Charlie helped build the Main Office, the Laboratory, and the Badin Club. Soon after these buildings were completed, work was started by the French Company on the Carbon Plant; and it is here that Charlie still works. Charlie is a brickmason, and a good one.

Our Honor Roll

(Continued from page 3)

Russell, Chas. E. (Chad.), "E" Company, Ambulance 16, A. E. F.
Russell, Lane, A. E. F.
Russell, Richard, Camp Hill.
Sellars, Benj. H., Battery "E," Ninth Regiment Field Artillery, Camp Jackson, S. C.
Sheffy, W. E.
Siceloff, L. H., Headquarters Company, 322d Regiment Infantry, 81st Division, France.
Sikes, G. H., Company "K," Fifth Pioneer Infantry, Camp Wadsworth, S. C.
Skidmore, Loyd.
Slack, Bud.
Smith, Henry, Camp Jackson.
Smith, J. D., Machine Gun Company, France.

CHARLIE BARTINI

Smith, R. B., Charleston Naval Training Station. Snuggs, Marvin, Camp Jackson, S. C. Spencer, J. C. Stanback, Fred, Camp Jackson, S. C. Stewart, Ray. Stogner, J. Stuckey, J. Sullivan, Herbert, A. E. F. Swing, Ed, Camp Jackson, S. C. Talley, Jess, Camp Jackson, S. C. Talley, Jess, Camp Jackson, S. C. Talley, Jim. Tally, Mack, Camp Jackson, S. C. Taylor, Jos. G., Naval Aviation, France. 1aylor, J. M., A. E. F. Terril, W. C. Threadgill, Lacy, Camp Sevier, S. C. Thompson, Walter C., Wounded—in hospital. Thornton, Vann, Fort Thomas, Ky. Tripp, Robert, A. E. F. Trotter, J. Troutman, Love, Camp Jackson, S. C. Turnmeyer, G. N., U. S. S. "Cobb," 178 Border Street, East Boston, Mass. Vann, Chisholm, 318th Machine Gun Company, France. Vann, James, "F" Company, C. A. C., Fort Barrancas, Ky. Vereen, James H., Camp Jackson, S. C. Vickar, J. A., Jr., United States Naval Aviation, A. E. F. Wane, G. W., A. E. F. Warkins, Pierce, Camp Greene, Charlotte, N. C. Webster, E. J., Lieutenant, Machine Gun Company, France. Wolff, King. Younts, Chas. R., Fort Caswell, N. C.