classic will start this afternoon at 1430, but 10 of the 13 finals have been saved for the big show at 1930 tonight. Admission for university students and cadets is 50 cents, one ticket admitting holder to both the afternoon and evening events. Reserved seats are 75 cents.

Navy of Annapolis is favored for top honors with North Carolina, Duke, Virginia, and Georgia Tech in the runner-up positions.

The remainder of the 16 teams, all of which have entered only their top performers, are Alabama, Davidson, New River, N. C. State, Pennsylvania State Teachers, South Carolina, Virginia, Virginia Marine Base, V. M. I., and V. P. I.

All the winning marks will go down as new Southern open records, but judging from the field, several of them should surpass the former Conference figures.

While the Navy Pre-Flight team has the second highest number of entries—North Carolina is first—there are no established stars among the group. The meet itself, though, will be unusually fast bringing together the cream of Dixie's track stars.

The only Pre-Flighter with previous college track experience is Robert Gorman, who captained Dartmouth's football team in 1941, and who was a three-year letterman in track. He will participate in the broad jump.

Other Pre-Flighters who may cause the favorites trouble are H. S. Bunting and H. P. Hancock in the polevault, J. S. Kissel in the distance events, and E. R. Nuttall in the shot.

High man for the opposition was Ken Gunning, a former Indiana University ace, who had 10 points.

Coach of the officers' team is Lt. (jg) Whitey Kendall, who played guard on the team. He is a former Davis-Elkins star.

Congratulations from Carmichael

The following telegram was received Friday evening, Feb. 19:

To the Regiment of Cadets
U. S. Navy Pre-Flight School
Chapel Hill, N. C.

The Tar Heels of North Carolina salute the Tartars of the Navy. The magnificent demonstration that you gave the state legislators on Thursday was inspiring and confidence-building.

Your guests left Chapel Hill last night enthusiastic about our Naval airmen and confident of victory. You made an everlasting impression on them and while the officers of the Pre-Flight School deserve great credit for a skillfully planned program, you cadets will be remembered always.

W. D. Carmichael, Jr.
Controller of the University of North Carolina
