

HARMAN

(Continued from page one)

USNR, athletic dept., special details, to CAA-WTS, State Teachers College, Keene, N. H.; Lieut. Ivan W. Fuqua, USNR, athletic dept., special details, to CAA-WTS, Louisiana State Normal College, Natchitaches, La.; Lt. (jg) Frank D. Gardner, USNR, asst. coach, wrestling, to CAA-WTS, Fitchburg State Teachers College, Fitchburg, Mass.;

Lieut. Frank L. Gillespie, USNR, asst. welfare and recreation officer, to CAA-WTS, Colgate University, Hamilton, N. Y.; Lieut. Joseph A. Goeller, USNR, battalion officer, to CAA-WTS, Muhlenburg College, Allentown, Pa.; Lt. (jg) Harry H. Hedgepath, USNR, platoon officer, to CAA-WTS, Austin-Peay Normal School, Clarksburg, Tenn.; Lt. (jg) Frank W. Kirkleski, USNR, athletic dept., special details, to CAA-WTS, Roanoke College, Salem, Va.; Lieut. Wade E. Marlette, USNR, athletic dept., special details, to CAA-WTS, Union College, Schenectady, N. Y.; Lieut. Joseph P. McCluskey, USNR, platoon officer, to CAA-WTS, Siena College, Londonville, N. Y.

Lieut. James P. Moran, USNR, battalion officer, to CAA-WTS, University of South Carolina, Columbia, S. C.; Lt. (jg) Andrew J. Nardo, USNR, platoon officer, to CAA-WTS, Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Ala.; Lieut. Rex. E. Pyles, USNR, asst. sports program, to CAA-WTS, State Teachers College, Lockhaven, Pa.; Lt. (jg) Alured C. Ransom, USNR, asst. coach, basketball, to CAA-WTS, Franklin & Marshall College, Lancaster, Pa.; Lt. (jg) Donald A. Reese, USNR, platoon officer, to CAA-WTS, Maine Central Institute, Pittsfield, Maine; Lieut. Roger T. Walsh, USNR, military dept., officer-in-charge, holdovers, to CAA-WTS, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N. Y.; Lieut. Wilho A. Winika, USNR, platoon officer, to CAA-WTS, Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa.

NON-SWIMMERS

(Continued from page three)

"This non-swimmers program is in addition to the regular aquatic training that every cadet receives.

"All pre-flighters spend a great deal of their time in the water, learning to master naval swimming tactics such as staying afloat for lengths of time, climbing cargo nets wet, disrobing in the drink, carrying rifles while swimming, etc."

"No Liberty"

READING his "No Liberty" Orders, Craven Gridley, USNR, pictured above, was detached this week, along with 115 cadets, for Primary Flight training at Peru, Indiana. A holdover from the 20th Battalion, Cadet Gridley stated through his superiors that he was looking forward to some day landing in Tokio.

Craven Gridley Detached To Peru With 115 Cadets

His vision is 20-20, eyes brown, hair red, brown and white. He's eight inches tall and two feet long plus tail. His address was 202 Manly Hall.

This week he was detached. Along with 115 cadets, Craven Gridley went to the Naval Air Station at Peru, Indiana.

Here at Chapel Hill Gridley found the Pre-Flight program tough. For a while he didn't think he would make the grade. A turnback from the 20th Battalion C-2 to the 21st Battalion F-2, he had to spend nights and week end liberty studying. But Craven wanted to go to Tokio, and he knew his best chance was to become an Ensign with wings.

So much time did Gridley spend on his books that in order to leave with the 21st Battalion he got no liberty. It wasn't until the last minute that the military department officially signed his papers.

News of his departure spread quickly over the station. Four of the cadets—K. W. Allen, Beverly Hills, California, Bob Kretzan, Richmond Hill, N. Y., T. H. Cartwright, San Diego, California, and Jimmy Talley, Atlanta, Georgia—who were going to Peru and who had helped Gridley with his math (he was unusually weak in this subject) agreed to look after him. It is rumored that Gridley call them Seabiscuit, Crip, Rebel and Bob.

Craven couldn't sign his own papers, but he watched Ensign Joseph Frank, USNR, put his John Hancock on the dotted line.

By now he's at Peru. Another three months, and he'll start his secondary training. Then to Pensacola, an Ensign with wings, and Tokio.

That's the ambition of Craven Gridley. A dog with 20-20 vision, brown eyes, red, brown and white hair. A dog eight inches tall and two feet long plus tail.

ENLISTED MEN

(Continued from page one)

D. Lakin, Huey L. Lawrence, Calvin F. Morrow, Herbert E. Reeder, Robert M. Tate, Abe Thurman, Jewitt L. White, Sherman U. Williamson, Lawyard L. Wilson, Charles L. Woods.

Lexington Blanks Cowpens, 9-0, To Hold Top Spot

Good team play and the pitching of Lieut. William C. Clark, USNR, continued to be the winning combination for the Lexington officers' team last Wednesday as the league leaders romped to a 9-0 victory over the Cowpens.

It was the first shutout of the current softball season, maintaining the Lexington's unblemished record which now stands at five victories and no losses.

Keeping pace with the Lexington, the Essex turned back the Ranger, 9-4, to tighten its hold on second place just one game behind the leaders.

Closest games of the day found the rejuvenated Hospital Corps edging out the Saratoga, 4 to 3, in eight innings, and the Satellites outslugging the Enterprise, 17-16.

The present standings:

	W	L	Pct.
Lexington .....	5	0	1.000
Essex .....	4	1	.800
Cowpens .....	2	3	.400
Hospital Corps .....	2	3	.400
Ranger .....	2	3	.400
Saratoga .....	2	3	.400
Satellites .....	2	3	.400
Enterprise .....	1	4	.200

NEW V-5 SCHOOL

(Continued from page one)

USNR, former Duke star and Wake Forest-Clemson coach.

While from the west have come Lieut. (jg) Roy Miller, USNR, Detroit Lions coach; Lieut. (jg) Leonard Osson, USNR, athletic director of Augustana College; Lieut. Harry Shipkey, USNR, Stanford mentor; Ensign William Fehring, USNR, baseball coach at Purdue University; Ensign William Dye, USNR, baseball mentor of Ohio State University; Lieut. Charles Maher, USNR, baseball coach of Western Michigan College; Lieut. Edgar Hickey, USNR, basketball coach at Creighton University; Ensign Anton Pilner, USNR, Washington University (St. Louis) mentor, and Lieut. (jg) John Simmons, Missouri University head coach.

New Recreation Officer

Lieut. (jg) Leonard Eiserer, USNR, has been transferred from Public Relations and named new Recreation Officer of the station, replacing Lieut. Frank Gillespie, USNR, who has been detached.