GLEE CLUB

show to Chapel Hill last fall.

Shortly after the first battalion arrived the Glee Club was formed. Cadet James Leyden, who had been in the Penn State Glee Club, organized a "locker room gang" of seventeen cadets most of whom had attended Penn State with him.

From this group, a church choir evolved, and they also sang many college songs and popular airs, first for their own amusement, and later for station smokers.

Arriving by this time were the second, third and fourth battalions who augmented the group and firmly established it as an integral part of the station activity.

Chief Yeoman Eugene Anheir, USN (Ret.), was the first supervisor of the group. After he was transferred to another station Everett Bracken, Y2c, replaced him. The latter is still in charge, and much of the success of the group can be attributed to his unselfish work.

After Cadet Leyden left, Professor John Toms of the University of North Carolina accepted the job of directing the group with cadets serving as assistant directors. At present Paul Owen, who sang with Fred Waring, is the cadet assisting Mr. Toms.

The Glee Club is composed of combined Protestant and Catholic choir members. Regular Glee Club rehearsals are held on Wednesday nights while the Choir rehearses on Friday night.

Lieut. (jg) Carney Dies

Lieut. (jg) Harold L. Carney, USNR, Battalion Officer, died here late last Sunday afternoon from coronary heart disease.

Former teacher and athletic coach at Tamagua, Pa., Lieut. Carney received his V-5 officer indoctrination at Chapel Hill last December prior to taking up duties in the military department here. He was 34 years old.

WAR BONDS

The mature value of the bonds is $18,596.33 with the total amount allotted being $13,947.25. The average monthly cadet allotment is $11.80, a percentage of 15.7 per cent of the monthly cadet payroll.

Those who helped with the drive were Lieut. J. E. Wadsworth, USNR, of the Military Department; Lt. (jg) Ernest J. Holcomb, USNR, and Ensign John C. Busby, Jr., USNR, assistant disbursing officers, and Ensign Nancy Mahady, USNR. Sponsored by the Military Department the drive was held in connection with a drive throughout the Navy to get Naval Personnel to purchase more War Bonds.

Visits Station

Commander Jesse G. Wright, USN, former senior medical officer here, visited the station this week.

More V-5 Instructors Assigned Here

TWENTY-SIX OF THE 132 officers in the eleventh V-5 indoctrination class who completed their training here today will soon take up duties at this station.

Included in the eleventh class were two former major league baseball players—Ensign Harry Craft, USNR, of the Cincinnati Reds, and Ensign Victor Bradford, USNR, of the New York Giants—both of whom played with the Cloudbusters. Ensign Craft reports to the U. S. Navy Pre-Flight School at Del Monte Calif., while Ensign Bradford goes to Iowa City.
