

Varsity Football Practice Starts Here On Monday

Football will take the athletic spotlight starting Monday when Lieut. Frank Kimbrough, head football coach, holds the first varsity practice on Emerson Field.

Coach Kimbrough and his aides have been working for the past month getting things in shape, and a squad of some 60 cadets is expected to report.

Since most of the cadets here now will be gone before the first game is played on Sept. 25, only those in the 30th or later battalions will be considered eligible for the varsity squad.

During the past week cadets in the later battalions reported to Coach Kimbrough at their Sports Program period, and light workouts were held. Monday, however, will be the first time that both coaches and cadets have been together as a unit.

Lieut. Kimbrough served as head football coach at Baylor University before being commissioned in the Navy.

To date six contests are on the Cloudbuster schedule, but others are expected to be added. There will not, however, be any inter-sectional games this fall.

One of the better service clubs in the nation last year, the Cloudbusters won eight, lost two and tied one.

The present schedule:

Sept. 25—U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland.

Oct. 16—Camp Davis at Chapel Hill.

Oct. 23—U. S. Navy Pre-Flight School, Athens, Ga., at Chapel Hill.

Nov. 6—Wake Forest at Chapel Hill.

Nov. 13—Camp Lejeune at Chapel Hill.

Nov. 25—N. C. State at Raleigh.

Sports Program Lead Still Held By Vindicators

Sports Program standings continued to stay the same over the past week's play as the Vindicators held first place by a comfortable margin followed by the Wildcats, Buccaneers and Kingfishers in that order.

Other than the four leaders, the Mariners and Mustangs showed vast improvement in play. Four points behind the fifth place Skyrockets a week ago, the Mariners moved into a tie for this spot with a 57 point total. The Mustangs, in the cellar for most of the season's play, moved up two notches in the standings while the Buffalos and Coronados took a nose dive.
