

Cloudbusters vs Camp Lejeune Today at 1430

“—and this is all you learned from the Marines—just Patty Cake—Patty Cake?”

© ESQUIRE, INC., 1943
Reprinted from the December issue of Esquire.

Dye, Kellogg, Hare and Wolf In New Backfield Combination

The final home game of the Cloudbuster football season is scheduled for this afternoon at 1430 in Kenan Stadium with the Marines from Camp Lejeune furnishing the opposition.

The visitors, possessing one of the finest service teams in the nation, have such established stars as Jim Cotten, former Pittsburgh Steelers ace; Chuck Drulis, regular guard for the Chicago Bears, and Bob Fitch, All-American end from Minnesota.

Wake Forest Scores 20 to 12 Victory Over Cloudbusters

Scoring touchdowns in the first, second and fourth periods Wake Forest college defeated the Cloudbusters here last Saturday afternoon, 20 to 12. A crowd of 5,000, mostly Navy personnel, witnessed the game.

While Nick Sacrinity, a sophomore sparked the Deacons, Cadet Cecil Hare was just about the whole show for the Pre-Flighters.

The former Washington Redskins blocking back made at least 50 per cent of the Cloudbuster tackles while he was in the game, and on offense he was the whole show.

Hare carried the ball 12 times and picked up 96 of the 111 yards the Cloudbusters gained rushing.

To open the third quarter Wake Forest kicked off to the Pre-Flighters, and Eugene Lovett, right end, took the ball on the five yard stripe and returned it to the 43. Hare picked up five yards on the first play off right tackle. Hare again, the same spot, and a 52 yard touchdown run as beautiful as seen in Kenan Stadium all year. It looked as if he would be tackled at the line of scrimmage, but he broke loose, butted into another would-be tackler, knocked him down, and then outran the secondary to score.

Wake Forest showed plenty of offensive power rushing, while the Cloudbusters did most of their damage in the air. A total of 27 passes were thrown by the Pre-Flighters, and they connected on 12 for 106 yards.

Cadet Ray Wolf, the ex-Dartmouth ace, who reported to Chapel Hill as a cadet Thursday a week ago, played part of the game and gave a good account of himself. He returned one of Perry's punts for 26 yards, and on another occasion went off right guard for 12.

For the past week Lieut. Frank Kimbrough, USNR, head football coach of the Cloudbusters, has been working on a defense to stop the offensive power of the Marines. Also, he's had a quintet of speedy backs working on a Cloudbuster offense which he hopes will cope with the weight disadvantage.

It's no secret that the Marines outweigh the Cloudbusters 25 pounds to the man for their team from end to end and including the backfield averages 208 pounds.

The backs which the Cloudbusters are counting on are Cecil Hare, Ray Wolf, Bob Kellogg, Wendell Wear, and Bill Dye. All have shown up well in drills this week.

Hare and Wolf do most of their ground gaining through the middle, while Wear, Dye, and Kellogg are best at the ends.

The probable starting Cloudbuster backfield will find Dye at quarterback, Kellogg at left half, Wolf at right half, and Hare at full. In the line Tuttle and Lovett will start at the ends, Lowans and Kuzman at the tackles, Budd and Hynes at the guards, and Paul Hart at center.

Lowans was shifted to right tackle on Monday so that Kuzman would be back in his old left tackle position. The change has given the Cloudbusters considerably more strength in the line.

Both the first string guards—Budd and Hynes—will be starting their first game. Two weeks ago Budd, who hails from Camden, N. J., was on the fourth team. Hynes, a Parkersburg, W. Va., youth, was used as a substitute in the last two games.

Expected to start for the Marines will be Fitch and Began at the ends, Bochynski and Sullivan at the tackles, Drulis and Erickson at the guards, and Sabasteanski at center. Cotton will be at quarterback, Dubenetzky and Kleinhenz at the halves, and Lang at full.

SPORTS PROGRAM WAR BONDS

(Continued from page three)

Holder thinks there's nothing like wrestling, and stated he'd be more than satisfied if he could spend all his time at the wrestling pavilion.

Track

Cadet J. P. Arrigone, 34-H-3, holds the present record of :54 seconds for the 440 yard run.

A member of the Mustang Squadron, Arrigone hails from Binghamton, N. Y. He was a star track man in high school, and won a varsity track letter at Cornell.

In high school Arrigone would run the 100, 440, and the hurdles, and on several occasions he won all three first places in the same meet. He's been a bug about track since he entered high school.

Ensign Charles Bowden, USNR, is coach of the Mustangs, and Arrigone is one of the cadets responsible for their leading the Sports Program in track. They have won six, lost two, and tied none.

(Continued from page one)

personnel, Civil Service employees, and cadets of the 38th Battalion.

Dec. 2 for all cadets of the 35th, 36th, and 37th Battalions.

Dec. 3 for all cadets of the 39th Battalion.

Headquarters for the War Bond purchases will be in Alexander Hall at the top of the ladder of the Pay Office from 0800 through 1700.

A report of War Bond allotments for units of the Naval Air Primary Training Command shows that as of Oct. 1 the Pre-Flight School at Chapel Hill ranked tops among the Pre-Flight units and second in the entire Command with 93.2% participation by officers and enlisted personnel.

She: You're the kind of man a girl can trust.

He: Haven't I met you before? Your faith is familiar.

Until You Drop Bombs—
Buy Bonds