

The Old and The New

LIEUT. GEORGE W. CUMMINS (ChC), USNR, seated at desk, who this week took over the duties of Chaplain at this station, receives some last minute suggestions from Lieut. George J. Grewenow (ChC), USNR, who has been detached. The new Chaplain has just come ashore after seventeen months of sea duty in the Atlantic. Chaplain Grewenow has been ordered to report to Com 12, San Francisco, Calif.

New Sky Pilot Just Returned From Sea Duty

Lieut. George W. Cummins, USNR, who this week replaced Lieut. George J. Grewenow, USNR, as chaplain at this station, has just returned from seventeen months of sea duty in the Atlantic.

Lieut. Cummins was commissioned a Lt. (jg) CHC-V(S) on July 1, 1942. He received his indoctrination training at the Chaplains' School, NOB Norfolk.

From September of '42 until March 11 of this year, he served aboard the USS New York doing convoy duty and participating in the shore bombardment of North Africa at both Safi and Casablanca.

"The warm welcome I have already received from the officers, cadets and crew, and the many good reports I have heard con-

Mustangs Return To Top Position In Sports Program

The see-saw race for top position in the Sports Program continues as the Mustangs overtake the Kingfishers and again move into first place.

The margin, however, is but by one point, and the Kingfishers could easily move into top position again should their record of yesterday afternoon be a good one.

The leaders have a total of 88½ points, while the Kingfishers, in second place, have 87½. Follow, in order, the Wildcats with 84, Skyrockets 79, Devastators 70½, Buccaneers, 69½, Buffalos 69, Catalinas 63, Vindicators 62, Coronados 59, Helldivers 48, and Mariners 44.

Only in gym and tumbling are the leaders undefeated. Their record in other sports show four wins against two losses in wrestling, two wins against three losses in boxing, four wins and two losses in swimming, four wins and one loss in soccer, and five wins against a like number of defeats in basketball.

The Kingfishers are undefeated in swimming, while the fourth place Skyrockets have a perfect record of six straight wins in boxing. Other than the above two, the Buccaneers have won six straight swimming meets, and the Vindicators have only a tie to mar their soccer record.

Cloudbusters Will Play N. C. State On Easter Monday

Next Monday afternoon the U. S. Navy Pre-Flight Cloudbusters will officially open their 1944 baseball season at Raleigh with a game against N. C. State, and the first home game will be played with Duke on Emerson Field next Saturday.

Lieut. W. Glenn Killinger, USNR, head coach of baseball, has named a tentative starting lineup for both contests and predicts that the Pre-Flighters will make a good showing in the newly formed "Ration League" which is composed of Duke, N. C. State, the University of North Carolina and Pre-Flight.

Cadet R. L. Somerville will start on the mound in the Monday game, and Cadet J. A. Farley will get the tough assignment against Duke. In other positions the same cadets will start both games.

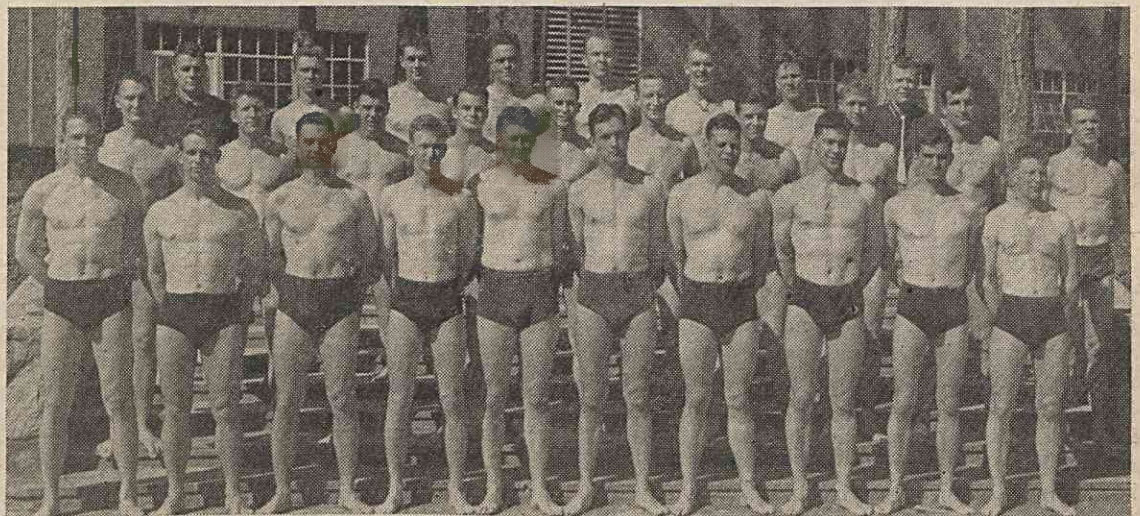

Leadoff man and secondbaseman is Cadet P. A. Gaulin, who played professionally in the Eastern Shore League. H. D. Thompson, who last year played with Duke, will follow Gaulin in the batting order and play shortstop.

The third hitter is Cadet A. M. Barnes, the left fielder, while J. Kollonige, property of the New York Yankees, will play first and hit in the cleanup spot.

Next comes J. J. Crampsey, who

Kingfishers Have Won 12 Straight in Swimming

THE KINGFISHER SWIMMING TEAM, pictured above, hasn't been connected with the word "lost" in so long that some of the cadets are beginning to discard it from their vocabulary. As of yesterday morning, the team's record stood at 12 wins against no losses. Pictured in the upper right hand corner is Ensign Harold Hickman, USNR, coach of the team, while on the left (in the same position) is Lt. (jg) V. C. Ashford, USNR, squadron director.
