On The Lighter Side . . .

The Southern father was introducing his family to a governor.

"Seventeen boys," he explained proudly, "and all Democrats except Johnny, the little rascal. He got to readin'."

* * * * *

"So," sobbed Illma Kropotkin Vasillineovitch, "Ivan Ninespotki died in battle! Did he really whisper my name as he was dying?"

"Part of it," replied the soldier, "part of it."

* * * * *

Road signs are frequently prophetic. For example:

- "Soft Shoulders"
- "Dangerous Curves"
- "Men At Work"
- "Danger"
- "Look Out For Children"

* * * * *

Have you ever stopped to think that the pin-up girl came in just as elastic went out?

* * * * *

Sweet little thing: "It's shameful the way you start making passes at me after a half dozen drinks."

Soldier: "What's shameful about that?"
Sweet thing: "Wasting five drinks."

* * * * *

Says a Cadet from the wide open spaces:

"I was a farm hand working in a dairy so many years that when I am introduced to people I still catch myself shaking hands with one finger at a time."

A MORE EXCELLENT WAY

"But covet earnestly the best gifts: yet I shew unto you a more excellent way."—I CORINTHIANS 12:31.

Science has made the world a neighborhood. The world cannot survive as a neighborhood unless it becomes a brotherhood. The brotherhood of man must be founded in the Fatherhood of God and this is only possible through Jesus Christ, the Son of God.

Salvation, regeneration, and redeeming love came by him into the world, and, working in human hearts will bind men and nations to one another and to God.

The greatest menace to navigation in all maritime history has been that of icebergs—mountains of ice coming down from Arctic heights, glaciers gliding gently, silently across sea lanes, colliding with and crushing ships and men. The navies of the nations have kept warships on guard to shell them out of the sea lanes. How helpless science has been. God solves the problem. He sends the Gulf stream with its warmth to melt the icebergs, and the mountains of ice, centuries old, are melted into liquid beds for ships safely to float upon in peace.

The icebergs of hatred and age-long antipathies between nations, groups, and races, have been battled by science, and all human political, intellectual, and social techniques in vain.

Nineteen hundred years ago Jesus launched the Gulf stream of everlasting love from Calvary. Only love can melt mountains of frozen hatred into love which begets love and deepen for tomorrow's world the enduring foundation of love.

*O love that wilt not let me go,
I rest my weary soul in Thee;
I give Thee back the life I owe,
That in Thine ocean depths its flow
May richer, fuller be.*

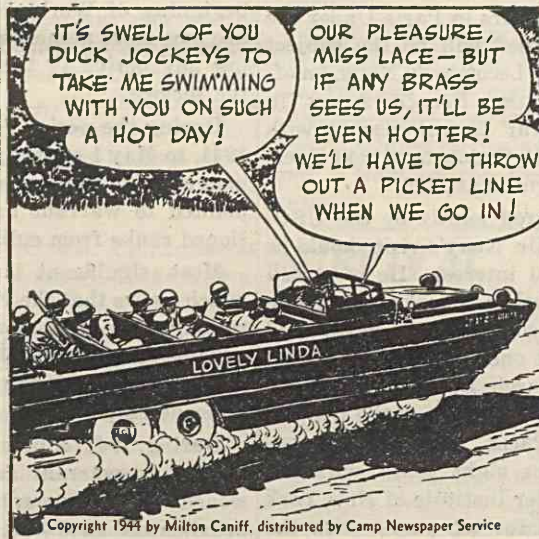

"Now abideth faith, hope and love, these three; but the greatest of these is love."—SELECTED.
