The pictures shown at Wednesday night's entertainment tell a better story than words. The Midshipmen, playing their first game under their new head coach, Commander Oscar E. Hagberg, got away to a 7 to 0 advantage in the first period when Bobby Jenkins led an eighty-five-yard march across the Pre-Flight goal. The pay-off was Jenkins's pass to Ben Martin for twenty-nine yards and the score.

Then Graham, Koslowski and the Pre-Flighters stepped into the picture and marched the same distance to tie up the ball game in the second period. Koslowski caught one of Graham's tosses for the pay-off.

With two minutes gone in the third period Joe Partington scooped up Jim Pettit's fumble on the Cloudbusters' 45 and dashed untouched across Navy's goal to give the Pre-Flighters a 14 to 7 lead. Four minutes later Navy tied it up as Bobby Jenkins, engaging in a personal duel with Graham, ran the ball almost all the way in a 75-yard advance. A 25-yard run put it on the one-foot mark and Joe Sullivan, 205-pound back, smashed over.

It was a bit of quick thinking by Graham in the last three minutes of play that brought victory. With the score knotted at 14-14, Graham paused over a rolling kick off the foot of Naval ace Hal Hamberg, then scooped it up on the Cloudbuster 26 yard line.

Otto legged it to the 45, and it was here he turned the tide against Navy. With the Middies closing in Graham tossed the ball to Frank Aschenbrenner, ex-Marquette, who drew wide from his position 12 yards behind Graham and raced the distance to score.

Backfield Starters Against Duke

"B" Football Team Loses To Marines

While the varsity was winning at Annapolis, the Cloudbuster "B" team dropped a 7 to 0 decision to the Marine Air Base from Kinston, N. C. Site of the contest was Navy Field Number One, and a goodly crowd was on hand.

Only three minutes of play remained when the Marines scored on a 35-yard runback of an intercepted pass. In the third period the Pre-Flighters drove to the Marine three, but failed to make the remaining distance.

Outstanding for the Cloudbusters was P. M. Lynsky and Max Schumacher.

Regimental Dance on Oct. 21

The first cadet regimental dance of the fall season is scheduled for Woollen gym on Saturday, 21 October, with music to be furnished by the Pre-Flight swing orchestra. Cadets are urged to line up dates for the occasion now.

Price, Aschenbrenner. Time of periods—15 minutes.

War Fund Campaign Underway Here

A campaign to raise contributions for the 1944 National War Fund is now underway at this station.

The local drive is a phase of the organized national effort to secure adequate funds with which to continue for another year the splendid work being done by member organizations to serve humanitarian needs on three fronts: the Military front, covering services to the Armed Forces largely through USO, United Seamen's Service, and War Prisoners' Aid furnishing food and other necessities to American prisoners of war; the United Nations front; and the American Home front supported by Community Chests.

A considerable amount of the money raised is used to serve local community needs.

In a memorandum issued by the Commanding Officer last week plans were announced for solicitation and payment of gifts by naval and civilian personnel during the campaign conducted here between Oct. 5 and Oct. 20. Full cooperation of all station personnel was requested to help make the National War Fund drive for 1944 a success.

When a station representative calls on YOU in the near future, make your contribution as generous as possible for the cause is worthy. Or, contributions may be made through Lieut. W. C. Clark in the Military Department, and Lieut. Leonard Eiserer, in the Public Relations Office.

Tea for Officers' Wives

There will be a station tea for officers' wives at the Officers' Club next Wednesday, Oct. 11th, between 1600 and 1800.

Beat Duke!

A good portion of the Carolina student body is rallying behind the Cloudbusters in today's game against the Duke Blue Devils at Durham. A large number of UNC students will be in the stands rooting for the Cloudbusters, and University cheerleaders will be on hand along with those of Pre-Flight to rally support behind the Navy team against Carolina's perennial arch rival.

Soccer Team Whips Duke, 7 to 1

The Cloudbuster soccer team, composed largely of French cadets and coached by Lt. Comdr. Earle Waters, overwhelmed Duke University at Durham last Wednesday by the one-sided score of 7 to 1. Cadet Gueguen was leading scorer with three tallies, followed by Fouyssat with two goals, and Suess and Alajarin, one each. Duke's lone goal was scored by Harkness.

DUKE TODAY

John Crowder will be in action again, after taking it easy for two weeks while recovering from an injury.

Running behind this forward wall will be Gordon Carver on the wing, John Krisza at quarter, Tom Davis at full and either George Clark or J. C. Kennard at the fall.

Duke defeated Richmond in the season opener, 61 to 7, and lost last week to Penn, 18 to 7.

The Cloudbusters will start Anderson and Sheehan at the ends, Lorentz and Lum at the tackles, Flick and Atkinson at the guards, and Wesley Coleman at center. Graham will be at quarter, Sanders and Wilson at the halves and Koslowski at full.

Leading reserves include Wally Schumacher at end, Ray Bray at tackle and Roger Huneycutt at center in the line, and Dan Weitekamp at quarter, Frank Aschenbrenner and Bob Kellogg at the halves, and G. V. Fellabaum at full.
