

'Buster Quintet Seeks 9th Win In Row

Ringmen To Fight Against Handicap In Virginia Match

Cloudbuster boxers will enter the ring against Virginia at Charlottesville tomorrow with a two-bout handicap for failing to produce fighters in the bantam and heavyweight divisions, Lieut. James A. Young, head coach, stated yesterday.

Cadets here are not light enough for the 120-pound class, he explained, and a good heavyweight has not yet been uncovered.

Starting with a two-point deficit, the 'Buster battlers will have to take five of the six events to win the match, or four to tie.

Slated to carry the Pre-Flight colors are James Calvey in the 127-pound class; Albert Salkowski at 135 pounds; Byron R. Hostetler at 145 pounds; James MacConnachie at 155 pounds; Milt Schumacher or Howard Anunson at 165 pounds; and J. J. Panko at 175 pounds.

The Virginia Cavaliers last week dropped a close 5-4 match to Emory & Henry College which Pre-Flight previously defeated, 5-3.

Faces Tough Tilts With Navy Outfits In Coming Week

The Cloudbusters continued their winning ways on the hardwood last week by triumphing twice over Camp Peary to give themselves an eight-game winning streak going into the tilt with the tough Naval Air Station team at Jacksonville, Fla., tomorrow night.

Win No. 1 over the Pirates came at Camp Peary, Va., last Saturday when the locals surged into the lead four minutes before the half, were never headed thereafter, and went on to win, 55-42.

Win No. 2 was gained in Woollen gym last Wednesday when the visitors scored 62 points—enough for victory in most court games—only to have the high-flying 'Busters roll up 75 points to take the free-scoring contest.

Otto Graham, ace forward, proved too much for the visitors, as for the second time this season he swished 27 points into the loop. Graham made good on 10 field goals out of 21 attempts, and on seven out of eight charity tosses.

In winning nine of 11 contests this season, the 'Busters have scored a total of 616 points, for an average of 56 per game. They have held their opponents to an aggregate of 470, or 43 per game.

Home games on tap for next week include one with the powerful Naval Training Station quint from Norfolk on Monday, and one with Georgia Pre-Flight on Saturday.

Graham Now Leads In Scoring Race

Otto Graham's 27 points Camp Peary Wednesday night, placed him in the number one spot in the Cloudbuster scoring race. In the nine games he has played to date, Graham has registered 142 tallies or almost 16 points per contest.

With nine games won out of 11 starts, the scoring race shapes up as follows:

	GP	G	FT	TP	Av.
Graham	9	50	42	142	16
Mehl	11	53	16	122	11
Meador	10	52	16	120	12
Gleasner	11	24	10	58	5
Leakey	8	24	9	57	7

Lt. (jg) Dye Tough on Defense For 'Buster Court Opponents

Important steadying force of the Cloudbuster basketball five is Lt. (jg) William H. H. Dye, II, better known as "Tippy."

Though not listed among the team's top scorers, the diminutive Dye, who stands 5' 7" and tips the scales at a mere 142, is a giant on defense and a vital cog in the steadily improving Cloudbuster quintet. His close guarding and tricky floorwork make him a persistent thorn in the side of all Pre-Flight opponents. He also is serving as assistant coach to Lieut. Raese.

A native of Harrisonville, O., Lt. (jg) Dye attended Ohio State University where he participated in football, basketball, and baseball, winning four letters in each sport. In 1937 he was selected as quarterback on the All-Big-Ten eleven, and the same year made the All-America basketball team as guard.

From 1939 to 1941, Lt. (jg) Dye served as athletic director at Grandview High School, Columbus, O. He next became varsity basketball and assistant football coach at Brown University, Providence, R. I., returning to Ohio State to take on the job of assistant football, basketball, and varsity baseball coach in 1942-43.

Entering the Navy in May, '43, Lt. (jg) Dye attended the 11th V-5 officer training class at Chapel Hill. Commissioned an ensign, he remained at the termination of the course and was assigned to the athletic department. He became aide to the Executive Officer in March of last year.

Cadet Mat Team Opens Schedule

The Pre-Flight varsity wrestling team, coached by Lieut. S. S. Hollobaugh, opened its season against the Cherry Point Marines in Woollen gym last night, too late, however, for inclusion of the results in this is-sure of the Cloudbuster.

Three other meets are on the mat schedule, two of them with Duke. The Cloudbusters will grapple the Blue Devils here on Jan. 30 and at Durham on Feb. 9. The fourth meet will be against the Naval Academy at Annapolis on Feb. 24.
