

So there fellers, is the end of our "bull session" and there's no more predicting with accuracy, what this crowd will say or do, than you can depend on Grady Cole's weather forecast. Lefty, usually the close-mouth, gives us a good pep-talk - Mon, the pessimist sees the Silver lining, Sam, the carrier of good news, reverses the situation and brought in a "Bad Report" - and so until we meet again, the writer wishes you fellers,

Good Luck, Good Fighting and God Bless You! !
Sincerely,
Jim Osborne.

Boys you should see the way your paper, "Hot off the Hoover Rail" sells here at home - we have been printing from 100 to 150 extra copies each time, and placing them in the Company store, to sell at 5¢ per copy - whew! they sell like the proverbial hot cakes - and then most of the buyers line up on the steps in the store and just sit there until they've read every word - so you see even the "Home Folks" enjoy your paper a whole lots.

"One way to forget your troubles is to wear a pair of tight shoes"