

One night not long ago we had the misfortune of going to town on Mr. Hunt's bus on one of those nights when it is packed and jammed to overflowing. A load of that "white lightning" must have come into Lawndale that day because several men on the bus were feeling pretty good. Just read "Seen And Heard Around Town" and you will find out what happened to Anne. That same night one fellow turned around in his seat and sat on his knees all the way home just to get to stare at Pauline Carpenter. Yep, he was drunk too.

One of the latest fellows around here who has crashed into the courtin' circle is Moton Johnson. We think one of Dan Cupid's arrows has pierced his heart because he has been known to get off the bus pretty often between Lawndale and Shelby. We'd like to know who that girl is who lives about halfway between those two places, but Moton hasn't told us yet.

The Red Cross - Civilian Army of Mercy

A Call to the Colors - the Colors of the Red Cross!!

This is your opportunity to become a soldier in this great Army of Mercy. In a few days local solicitors will see you for your contribution, make a contribution that means a real sacrifice, our boys are sacrificing so much, will you not in this small measure make a sacrifice for them.

Here is the way to reach your warm hand across and around the world --- by simply putting it in your pocket and giving the equivalent of at least a days work.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schenck, Sr. are the local chairmen of this annual Red Cross Drive - as many of you know, he is ill. Lets make him proud of the village - lets push well over Lawndale's quota - it will cheer them up.

Here's an anecdote from the Pacific ---

The most popular items on the menu at a Red Cross rest home are hamburgers and milk shades. One flier, on leave after 30 missions, went on a milk shake binge. He was up to his ninth when the Red Cross worker advised him to take it easy. He grinned and said, "Miss, I've been dreaming of a milk shake stomach-ache for nineteen months!"
