

"HAWKWIZ"

By
BOB HAWK

1. Are wild rice and brown rice the same thing?
2. In depositing a check in your boss's account you write "For Deposit Only" on the back. Must he personally endorse it then or may you endorse it for him?
3. What is a grilse?
4. What is the difference between a coldframe and a hotbed for early seedlings?
5. How is the word culinary pronounced?
6. In what country was opera born?
7. Is the new baby more apt to be a boy or a girl?
8. If a recipe calls for a dash of nutmeg how much would that be if measured?
9. What famous battle was fought in this country weeks after the war had been ended by treaty?
10. Do males vary more in intelligence or do females?
11. The story "Going My Way" takes place in what city?
12. What does CRS on a guest card in a hotel's file mean?
13. Is saliva normally acid or alkaline?
14. In what war were troops first moved by train in the United States?
15. If the mail carried by 50 planes was converted into V-Mail, how many planes of the same capacity would then be required?

(The answers to the "HAWKWIZ" questions will be found on the reverse side of this page.)

* * * * *

LAWDALE SMALL FRY SPEAKING-

The Ben Palmers had a man to come to plow their garden spot - when he arrived he had had a little too much "mountain dew", he worked awhile, then his horse got away from him, so being in a "don't-give-a-damish" mood he just left him and said he would come get the contrary animal on the morrow. Well, the next day the plowman showed up alright but he was more deeply under the influence of that 'air dew than on the previous day. In trying to catch his horse he fell in the ditch and couldn't get up. Little Benny had been an interested spectator all the while, so upon spying the man in the ditch tried to pull him out but to no avail, so he loudly called upon his Moms to come help him - but not 'Renie, she wanted no part of that deal, so she called some men from the nearby garage. They succeeded in getting the man out of the ditch and on his feet and as they were leading him away, Benny saw his raggedy undershirt flapping wildly outside his torn shirt, "Wait, wait", he yelled, "his petticoat is showing, I'll fix it for him."