

HEY GANG -PICNIC!

That Master Planner, that Mountain Epicure, Stan Brunt, has done it again! And plans this year indicate a real corker. The Company Annual Summer Whingding will be held again this year, July 23, at Camp Hanes in the Sauratown Mountains north-west of INT -- and what a spot! A clear mountain lake, well stocked with fish and swimmers, ample space for any kind of athletics, a chow to end all chows, dancing under the stars, there'll be so much to do you'll be in the fix the man was in who had to choose between Marilyn Monroe and Gina Lollabrigida. Oh, that I should have that choice.

Last year, the weather gods frowned on us and we had a chilly, damp day, but LaRue Coldfront, our North Alaskan Meteorologist, has personally guaranteed a perfect day--and night. Speaking of the evening's activities, let's have more of them. We'll have lifeguards there for the day's activities, and the only danger at night is snakebite - Be Prepared!

This Brunt boy has really lined up the music for the occasion--Les Brown, Ralph Flanagan, Billy May, just to mention a few. Table accommodations will be provided for the faint-hearted.

When the dawn comes blazing up over the craggy peaks of the Sauratowns, we expect to see the tattered remnants of a gallant band of Piedmontites wending their weary way homeward--will one of them be you?

FARE ELECTED DIRECTOR OF NOMA

M.F. Fare, Piedmont's Secretary, has been elected a director of the Winston-Salem Chapter of National Office Management Association for a two-year term. Mr. Fare is a charter member of the Winston-Salem Chapter which was organized in June, 1953.

NOMA is a national organization consisting of Treasurers, Controllers and office managers with chapters throughout the United States.

BALL CLUB IN DOLDRUMS

Piedmont's baseball team is having it rough--but good! So far this season, the club's record is three wins and seven losses, nearly all the losses by very close margins. The team hits well, fields well, pitching is a little off, with occasional streaks of wildness plaguing our lads. In two games Piedmont scored 36 runs, yet lost one game.

Hitting big guns are Vestle Widener of the Prop Shop with an average of 468, while Frank Grant of the Radio Shop leads in round-trippers with four. We hate to say it, (and we're as guilty as anyone else) but the team is suffering from a lack of support. Piedmont rooters have been conspicuous by their absence.

The boys have tried hard, the team looks good, and they deserve your support. Schedules for the season's second half will be published in next month's Piedmonitor. Until then, check with Wimpy Fishel, INT-A, for time and place of games. Let's give these fellows some real Piedmont enthusiasm.

TURBY'S $689.80 CAT !!

It seems that Turby holds claim to owning the most expensive Tom Cat in these parts.

On January 1, 1949, a neighbor presented the Turbiville family with a little boy kitten. Since that day this cat has consumed one and one-half cans of cat food daily plus one small can of milk. Now since one and one-half cans of food cost 22 -1/2 cents and a small can of food costs seven cents and how it is that he has had this cat six years and five months or 2340 days, and by the method of multiplication we find that the canned meat has cost $526.00 and the milk $163.80 for a grand total of $689.80. This diamond studded cat is afraid of mice and birds and to Turby's knowledge has never caught either. This cat has used up ten of its nine lives already.

THE CAT IS FOR SALE IF ANYONE WILL OFFER TURBY $689.80.

MEXICO OR S.A. 20% OFF

Now's the time to head South of the Border--now it's cheaper than ever. To encourage Piedmontites to take full advantage of the wonderful travel opportunities available to airline employees, arrangements have been made with the Intercontinental Hotels Corporation for a 20% discount on rates at the following hotels:

Reservations should be requested through Mr. Hager's office. Don't waste a chance like this. "Where in the world do you want to go?" You can go on a shoestring.

PUZZLE OF THE MONTH

A snail crawls up half of a pole's height the first day; a third of the remainder on the second day; a fourth, fifth, sixth, and a seventh on each of the respective following days. If on the seventh day he climbs one foot four inches to reach the top how high is the pole?

"You sure have an excellently run garage here," remarked the tourist as he was having his car serviced. "I was noticing that mechanic working on the car over there. He is so careful to use that cloth blanket on the fender when he's working on the motor. It was a pleasure too, to see a mechanic lower a hood gently. And notice he washes his hands and puts a clean cloth on the upholstery before starting the car." "Yeah," replied the attendant, "that's his car."

The pole is 9 feet, 4 inches tall.
