

GENERAL HOLTON INVADES NEW BERN

Captain Mike Holton, who now holds the honorary rank of "General", called his troops from INT and took a firm hold on the quiet town of New Bern, N. C. on January 3. A crack platoon headed by "Private" Saunders flew to New Bern and bivouaced until 4 a.m. the following morning before descending upon Davis, N. C.

H. K. Saunder, Bill Turner, Walt Rollick, Roy Malott, Bob DeKay and Mike Holton took their positions in the watery foxholes and amid a fusillade of shots, bagged their limit of ducks in a few hours.

The victorious group then assembled at Mr. Luby Hardison's spacious and magnificent villa "Whiteford-on-the-Trent" to partake in a bit of social activity followed by a real Southern Bar-B-Que chicken dinner with all the trimmings. A perfect closing for a perfect day and the "Battle of New Bern" was considered a victory.

To rest on one's laurels is to rust on them.

The only task at which a man can succeed by starting at the top is that of digging a well. Even then, he will soon be in a hole.
