

Interesting Interlining

TWA Perimeter Fares

Imagine flying to Rome for $89; to Tel Aviv for $99; Nairobi for $149; Bombay for $199; or, to Hong Kong for $249.

While these low fares may sound incredible, they are now available as part of a new package being offered by Trans World Airlines for eligible interliners and their families.

Called "Perimeter Fares," these discounts let you fly economy positive space on any day of the week, with no minimum stay requirements.

On reaching your destination, you can take advantage of any published TWA airline employees' tour for further savings.

"Perimeter Fares" are good for 30 days for "positive space" travel during the off-season (eastbound: Aug. 1-Apr. 15; westbound: Oct. 15-July 31); and on "space available" basis during peak travel periods.

For more information on other destinations and conditions of this package, you can contact your local TWA sales or ticket office.

Marbella Hilton Invites Airline Sales Personnel

The Marbella Hilton on Spain's Costa del Sol is Europe's current "in" playground. The management invites airline sales, counter and reservation personnel — the real Jet Set — for a warm and sunny Mediterranean holiday at Hilton International's first beach resort hotel on the European continent.

An extremely attractive airline personnel package has been set up here, a vacation of 4 days (3 nights), complete with sightseeing tours, at the unbelievably low price of US $26.75 per person (twin-bedded room) or $33.25 per person (single room).

The Marbella Hilton provides a variety of entertainment for everybody. An 18-hole golf course is nearby, there is horseback riding, and at the hotel itself one can swim in the heated pool, play tennis, or simply sunbathe on the beach.

This offer to all airline sales personnel is valid from January 15th until March 16th, 1969, and from January 2nd until March 25th, 1970. Reservations are subject to confirmation by the hotel.
