Bowlers are winners

The tournament was a great success with 15 stations, the central res and the general office in the competition for cash prizes. Categories and winners were: first place team event, Gene Clay and Ed Nichols of Lynchburg, Jane Potter of Dulles, and Dan Campbell of Roanoke; second place team event, Nona Hailey and Blondie Glenn of central res, Bill Goolsby of Winston-Salem, Freddie Sfreddo (retired); third place event, Kiyoko Clontz, Gwyn Huie, M. Smith, and Roger Ragsdale from the general office, bilities beyond those available in-house. This led to the Company's buying out a small carpentry shop, the Irvin Manufacturing Company, in Winston-Salem.

After the Irvin acquisition, Piedmont took in more outside work in this field. Then, in 1968, the Company purchased another small firm, Fabricated Products, of Greenville, South Carolina. Fabricated Products manufactured laminated plastic furniture. The name of this South Carolina firm was changed to Piedmont Fabricators and it was moved to Winston-Salem.

One of the first early homes of Piedmont Fabricators was an old church, located near the Company's general office building. In these serene surroundings, Piedmont Fabricators grew rapidly and soon began making a profitable contribution to Piedmont Aviation, Inc.

Fabricators has since moved into new facilities and has become one of the largest manufacturers of beauty and barber shop equipment in the Southeast. The furniture they produce is made of Novoply and laminated with plastic.

With more than 150 active accounts in 25 states mainly east of the Rockies, Piedmont Fabricators' sales totaled over $500,000 last year.

Literally On Time

Plane flies around the face once a minute

A most appropriate new product is available, at special rates, of course, for Piedmont employees. It is a Piedmont Airlines watch, complete with an airplane that functions as a second hand (see photo at left).

There are two men's versions and a ladies' model offered in a gold finish. All three have the plane that goes around the dial.

The watches are 17 jewel, full lever, Swiss made, shock resistant, anti-magnetic and have a full-year's guarantee.

The prices include the watch with suede leather strap band, in a gift box. There are no additional charges for taxes, postage or handling. Include check or money order when you send in the order form below.
