Greensboro/High Point/Winston-Salem Regional Airport

On the July 15 schedule we provide 41 flights daily here. Two hundred employees keep our operations running smoothly. Over 385 pilots and 600 flight attendants are based here. Near the terminal is Air Services, Inc., a subsidiary of the General Aviation Division, which offers line services and operation for small aircraft.

GSO Maintenance Facility

Across the runway from the GSO terminal building is our largest maintenance facility where more than 500 employees work.

Aircraft Services North Liberty Street

This hangar and building house general aviation's avionics, propeller and maintenance shops, as well as the parts warehouse for AVSCO, a subsidiary of GAG. In all, 90 people work here.

General Aviation Group Headquarters North Liberty Street

Thirty-two employees work in GAG's new headquarters building, including those in charter sales, accounting, and Beechcraft sales. Behind this building, also on North Liberty Street, is GAG's engine services and APU shop where 58 are employed.

Office and Maintenance Facility North Liberty Street

Better known as the GO, this building will soon undergo major renovation once the moves to the new headquarters are complete. AOCC and maintenance operations will continue to be located here as well as part of purchasing. Approximately 1,000 people will work in this facility at summer's end.

Madison Park University Parkway

Piedmont has offices in three buildings in this complex. Computer and communications services, with over 275 employees, is in one building and part of another. The revenue accounting department now covers three floors and employs 330 people, and Ticket-by-Mail has grown to 160 employees and occupies the fifth floor of one building.
