

Colodny reaffirms commitment to Dayton

USAir's commitment to the Dayton hub "for the long term" was emphasized by Chairman and President Ed Colodny in a February 6 speech to the Dayton Rotary Club.

Dayton International Airport has been a major connecting hub since 1982 for Piedmont Airlines. Together, the two airlines operate 81 jet departures and 61 commuter departures daily at Dayton.

Colodny announced that new non-stop service between Dayton and Phoenix will be added to the local schedule by the end of 1989, "an example of USAir's commitment to increase its presence at Dayton," he said.

People Pleasers

Several Piedmont employees made strong favorable impressions on customers last year, resulting in many of those employees receiving multiple compliments. With a total of 38 compliments during 1988, Donna Feldman, reservations support-INT, led all other employees in Customer Relations Department's People Pleasers program. Not far behind her in compliments received in 1988 were: Mark Ellis, reservations-BNA, with 31; Norma Hamby, reservations support-INT, with 24; Gary Hutcheson, reservations-BNA, with 23; Ann Demarest, reservations support, with 22; Sam Hancock, customer relations-INT, also with 22; Allen Bedingfield, reservations support-INT, with 21; Pat Beard, reservations support-INT, with 19; and David Rath, sales-BUF, also with 19.

The number one People Pleaser in December was Gary Hutcheson, BNA reservations, with six compliments for the month.

Employees who received four compliments each in December were: Carole Brosch, flight attendant-BWI; and Norma Hamby and Nancy Sylvester, reservations support-INT.
