Bird That Dodges Bullets

One of the most common of local aquatic birds is the grebe, often called hell-diver. There is hardly an inland lake in the state that doesn't harbor at least one family of grebes during the summer season, writes a correspondent in the Detroit News. This is the bird that is able to dodge bullets if it happens to be watching the hunter, and for speed and quickness in diving it is in a class of its own.

Charity Dog to Retire

Victor, the silky-haired retriever who trotted the platforms of Euston (England) station for six years collecting funds for injured railway employees, is to retire on account of age. In that time he has collected $13,000. He wore no collar or chain, but carried a box into which coins were dropped, and he became so expert that he did not enter empty cars or compartments. Housewife's Idea Box

Selection of Shortening
Some care must be used in selecting the proper shortening for frying purposes. To fry properly, the shortening must be raised to a high temperature. Some fats smoke before they reach this temperature. These fats are not good. As soon as fat smokes it begins to change chemically and quickly becomes rancid.

Girls Unite Enemy Tribes

Through the work of Girl Guides in Africa two native tribes, 180 miles apart, which have been enemies for centuries, have decided to be friends. Each tribe has its Girl Guide company, and they decided this year to have a joint camp. The invitation was sent from tribe number one. The Guides of tribe number two responded and walked the entire 180 miles for a fortnight's fellowship. The shyness of the first few hours was soon broken, as with their leaders they joined in preparing the common meal and helping the old people in the village. In doing their good deeds they soon became friends. Older members of the tribes liked the friendship idea and adopted it.
