

The Rocky Mount Herald

VOLUME 4, NO. 12

ROCKY MOUNT, NORTH CAROLINA, FRIDAY, MARCH 19, 1937

$1.00 PER YEAR

EDGECOMBE TO VOTE MAY 1 ON $250,000 BOND ISSUE

Erection of a colored elementary school and an addition to the Rocky Mount high school will be determined at a special election of Edgecombe county voters May 1.

The two buildings in Rocky Mount will aggregate $250,000 of a $250,000 bond issue which will be voted upon in the election called by the Edgecombe board of commissioners.

The bond issue will call for $60,000 for the colored school and for $190,000 to build the addition to the high school here.

The board of commissioners has announced that an estimate of the increased taxation necessary will be made as the order will provide for an annual levy sufficient to pay the principal and interest on said bonds as the same shall become due.

The Rocky Mount school trustees applied in August, for funds with which to build the two buildings in the city.

According to the present plans, the colored elementary building would have 14 to 16 rooms and would be located adjoining Talbot park. If the city officials approve, part of the building may be located in part of the playground area.

The addition to the high school was first proposed in order to provide adequate quarters for the commercial, industrial arts, and music departments, and for an addition to the library. The Rocky Mount trustees asked for a larger sum than $21,000 and hence a change will have to be made in the tentative plans for the addition should the bond issue pass the voters. The addition would be placed on the north-east corner of the present building.

The acute need for two proposed buildings was voiced today by R. M. Wilson, superintendent of schools. "The colored schools need attention badly. The city is renting three buildings for elementary schools, neither of which provide adequate space, sewerage facilities, water, light, and heat. It is imperative that Rocky Mount should alleviate this condition."

"The addition of the twelfth grade, the junior-senior plan which we hope to put into effect, and the increased enrollment generally, makes it necessary for us to provide an addition to the high school."

Superintendent Wilson pointed out the Lincoln and Annie Holland elementary schools owned by the city. "If the new building is erected," he said, "we shall certainly remove the students from the buildings where the existing conditions are the worst." The city rents the Holly Street, South Rocky Mount, and Mt. Herman, buildings.

Superintendent Wilson pointed out the Lincoln and Annie Holland elementary schools owned by the city. "If the new building is erected," he said, "we shall certainly remove the students from the buildings where the existing conditions are the worst." The city rents the Holly Street, South Rocky Mount, and Mt. Herman, buildings.

Superintendent Wilson pointed out the Lincoln and Annie Holland elementary schools owned by the city. "If the new building is erected," he said, "we shall certainly remove the students from the buildings where the existing conditions are the worst." The city rents the Holly Street, South Rocky Mount, and Mt. Herman, buildings.

Superintendent Wilson pointed out the Lincoln and Annie Holland elementary schools owned by the city. "If the new building is erected," he said, "we shall certainly remove the students from the buildings where the existing conditions are the worst." The city rents the Holly Street, South Rocky Mount, and Mt. Herman, buildings.

Superintendent Wilson pointed out the Lincoln and Annie Holland elementary schools owned by the city. "If the new building is erected," he said, "we shall certainly remove the students from the buildings where the existing conditions are the worst." The city rents the Holly Street, South Rocky Mount, and Mt. Herman, buildings.

Superintendent Wilson pointed out the Lincoln and Annie Holland elementary schools owned by the city. "If the new building is erected," he said, "we shall certainly remove the students from the buildings where the existing conditions are the worst." The city rents the Holly Street, South Rocky Mount, and Mt. Herman, buildings.

Superintendent Wilson pointed out the Lincoln and Annie Holland elementary schools owned by the city. "If the new building is erected," he said, "we shall certainly remove the students from the buildings where the existing conditions are the worst." The city rents the Holly Street, South Rocky Mount, and Mt. Herman, buildings.

Superintendent Wilson pointed out the Lincoln and Annie Holland elementary schools owned by the city. "If the new building is erected," he said, "we shall certainly remove the students from the buildings where the existing conditions are the worst." The city rents the Holly Street, South Rocky Mount, and Mt. Herman, buildings.

Superintendent Wilson pointed out the Lincoln and Annie Holland elementary schools owned by the city. "If the new building is erected," he said, "we shall certainly remove the students from the buildings where the existing conditions are the worst." The city rents the Holly Street, South Rocky Mount, and Mt. Herman, buildings.

Superintendent Wilson pointed out the Lincoln and Annie Holland elementary schools owned by the city. "If the new building is erected," he said, "we shall certainly remove the students from the buildings where the existing conditions are the worst." The city rents the Holly Street, South Rocky Mount, and Mt. Herman, buildings.

Superintendent Wilson pointed out the Lincoln and Annie Holland elementary schools owned by the city. "If the new building is erected," he said, "we shall certainly remove the students from the buildings where the existing conditions are the worst." The city rents the Holly Street, South Rocky Mount, and Mt. Herman, buildings.

Superintendent Wilson pointed out the Lincoln and Annie Holland elementary schools owned by the city. "If the new building is erected," he said, "we shall certainly remove the students from the buildings where the existing conditions are the worst." The city rents the Holly Street, South Rocky Mount, and Mt. Herman, buildings.

Superintendent Wilson pointed out the Lincoln and Annie Holland elementary schools owned by the city. "If the new building is erected," he said, "we shall certainly remove the students from the buildings where the existing conditions are the worst." The city rents the Holly Street, South Rocky Mount, and Mt. Herman, buildings.

Superintendent Wilson pointed out the Lincoln and Annie Holland elementary schools owned by the city. "If the new building is erected," he said, "we shall certainly remove the students from the buildings where the existing conditions are the worst." The city rents the Holly Street, South Rocky Mount, and Mt. Herman, buildings.

Superintendent Wilson pointed out the Lincoln and Annie Holland elementary schools owned by the city. "If the new building is erected," he said, "we shall certainly remove the students from the buildings where the existing conditions are the worst." The city rents the Holly Street, South Rocky Mount, and Mt. Herman, buildings.

Superintendent Wilson pointed out the Lincoln and Annie Holland elementary schools owned by the city. "If the new building is erected," he said, "we shall certainly remove the students from the buildings where the existing conditions are the worst." The city rents the Holly Street, South Rocky Mount, and Mt. Herman, buildings.

Superintendent Wilson pointed out the Lincoln and Annie Holland elementary schools owned by the city. "If the new building is erected," he said, "we shall certainly remove the students from the buildings where the existing conditions are the worst." The city rents the Holly Street, South Rocky Mount, and Mt. Herman, buildings.

Superintendent Wilson pointed out the Lincoln and Annie Holland elementary schools owned by the city. "If the new building is erected," he said, "we shall certainly remove the students from the buildings where the existing conditions are the worst." The city rents the Holly Street, South Rocky Mount, and Mt. Herman, buildings.

BOY HIT BY TRUCK AND BADLY HURT

Son Of Farmer Near Nashville Accidently Hit By Truck

Otho M. Strickland, 10 year old son of W. O. Strickland of near Nashville, was seriously injured in a hospital here after a truck driven by R. C. Killebrew of Rocky Mount hit him last night.

Though the boy was in a critical condition with a fracture at the base of the brain and two breaks of the right arm, hospital attendants expected him to recover.

Nash Deputy Louis Beal, who investigated the accident, said it happened near the Strickland boy's home on the Nashville-Castalia highway about 6:30 o'clock last night.

The boy was standing by the highway talking to someone and then started across the road as a truck with a 24 foot lumber trailer was approaching. The truck was driven by Killebrew, employe of Carolina Building Supply Company here.

As the truck blew its horn the boy stopped in the middle of the road, Deputy Beal said, and then as the truck swerved to miss him the boy ran forward.

The truck hit the boy, he said, and threw him 15 feet. Immediately stopping, the truck came to rest with one wheel on the boy's leg, Deputy Beal said.

The accident was unavoidable to the driver, officers believed, and no charges were brought.

BOOK TRUCK WILL MAKE TOUR SOON

North Carolina Library Commission Sponsors Traveling Library Demonstration

Residents of Nash County will get a good peek into the glass enclosed North Carolina library commission's book truck, when Miss Marjorie Beal, secretary and director, drives it through this vicinity March 29, 30, and 31.

The book truck, which plays the most important role in the campaign for wider reading facilities being carried on by the library association, is making this scheduled tour of the state to demonstrate how easily the limited reading material problem can be solved by the counties. Officials of the association have stated they believe the book truck is the answer to that problem.

Mrs. Effie Vines Gordon, Nash county home demonstration agent, and Mrs. Nell G. Battle, librarian of the Braswell Memorial library, have been invited to accompany Miss Beal on the Nash county demonstration trip.

L. S. Insoe, county superintendent of Nash county schools, Mrs. Gordon and Mrs. Battle were appointed a committee to work out an itinerary of stops and hours for the three-day trip. They are being done and will be published in all Nash county papers so that every citizen of the county may be at one of the stops at the time stated to see the library on wheels and book truck service demonstrated.

Robert Bulluck, charged with speeding, failed to appear in court this morning, later today was re-apprehended and gave $10 bond for appearance in court tomorrow.

No court will be held the Monday following Easter, March 29, it has been announced.

Funeral services were conducted at Pullen Memorial Baptist church Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. E. M. Poole.

Surviving are his wife, two daughters, Miss Mary Dudley Pittman and Miss Josephine Pittman, both of Raleigh; a brother, C. W. E. Pittman of Raleigh; and two sisters, Mrs. A. W. Harper and Miss Mary R. Pittman of Whitakers.

The Old North State is again to feel the heel of a yankee invader. This time it is John L. Lewis, of sit-down strike fame, who, with his aides hopes to organize the textile that the first scene of attack will be the Cannon Mills, at Kannapolis, long recognized as one of the most liberal textile mills in the state to its employees. Seems as though a North Carolinian could do a better job of organizing Tar Heels.

Funeral services for George W. Bradley, 59, were held from his home on the Tarboro highway with Elder A. B. Denson, Primitive Baptist minister, officiating. Interment followed in Pineview cemetery.

Mr. Bradley died at home following an extended illness.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Martha Griffin Bradley; three sons, George, Jr., James, and Russell Bradley; two brothers, Frank Bradley and Lawrence Bradley, both of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. Leslie Calhoun and Miss Beulah Bradley, also of this city.

Active pallbearers at the services were R. C. Brown, W. W. Bulluck, J. S. Hinton, H. L. Redmond, W. B. Bradley, and W. H. Lanier.

Honorary pallbearers included Leslie Calhoun, J. G. Fezzer, R. B. Denson, Dr. A. T. Thorp, W. M. Daughtridge, P. C. Vestal, A. L. Dozier, W. K. Killebrew, J. B. Brako, J. Luther Brako, E. A. Brako, A. F. Brako, R. B. Brako, R. E. Currin, J. P. Young, J. D. Robbins, J. S. Gorman, J. H. Pollard, W. W. Meares, M. F. Jones, W. G. Weeks, Willis Proctor, J. C. Daughtridge, S. Robbins, A. T. Griffin, Dr. I. P. Battle, J. P. Bunn, W. S. Wilkinson, and J. L. Dupree.

WHITAKERS MAN KILLED IN ACCIDENT

Otis Parks Killed When Car Crashes Into Trailer Behind Parked Car

Otis Parks, 30, of Whitakers was killed almost instantly on the Battleboro highway near here when the car in which he was riding crashed into the rear of a trailer behind a parked truck.

Joe Stallings, 38, of Whitakers, driver of the car in which Parks was riding, and C. U. Ramsey of Rocky Mount, driver of the truck, were formally charged with manslaughter and placed under $500 bond each after local police and M. C. Gulley, Nash County coroner, had investigated the fatal crash.

Police reported their investigation showed that Ramsey had parked the truck, which was owned by S. T. Jones of near this city, near the edge of the highway, but that a trailer attached to the truck appeared to extend over the pavement.

When the Stallings car hit the trailer, officers said, several boards were ripped off the trailer and were hurled through the windshield of the approaching car, striking Parks.

Delegates from Virginia, Maryland District of Columbia, North and South Carolina, Georgia and East Florida are attending.

Election of officers and selection of the convention city last night were the remaining principal items of business to be transacted before adjournment.

Representatives from Charleston, S. C., extended an invitation to meet there next year.

Rabbi Zeigler is head of the Hillel Foundation work among Jewish students at the University of North Carolina, Duke University and Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, which started this under a B'nai B'rith foundation.

Richard E. Gustad of Chicago, national director of the anti-defamation society, said in an address at the opening last night that Germany is pouring large sums of money into America, Mexico and Canada for anti-Semitic propaganda but declared efforts to ban such propaganda by law are unwise and in direct contradiction of rights of free expression for which Jews have always stood.

Four submissions to driving violations were the docket in a brief session of police court here.

Lemon Wilson submitted to $10 fine for driving with improper brakes and agreed not to drive in the city for 30 days and to have the brakes repaired.

Thurston Smith, E. H. Lewis and C. W. Bradshaw each paid $1 cost for leaving cars parked on paved streets in the city from 1 to 5 o'clock A. M.

Robert Bulluck, charged with speeding, failed to appear in court this morning, later today was re-apprehended and gave $10 bond for appearance in court tomorrow.

No court will be held the Monday following Easter, March 29, it has been announced.

Funeral services for George W. Bradley, 59, were held from his home on the Tarboro highway with Elder A. B. Denson, Primitive Baptist minister, officiating. Interment followed in Pineview cemetery.

Mr. Bradley died at home following an extended illness.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Martha Griffin Bradley; three sons, George, Jr., James, and Russell Bradley; two brothers, Frank Bradley and Lawrence Bradley, both of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. Leslie Calhoun and Miss Beulah Bradley, also of this city.

Active pallbearers at the services were R. C. Brown, W. W. Bulluck, J. S. Hinton, H. L. Redmond, W. B. Bradley, and W. H. Lanier.

Honorary pallbearers included Leslie Calhoun, J. G. Fezzer, R. B. Denson, Dr. A. T. Thorp, W. M. Daughtridge, P. C. Vestal, A. L. Dozier, W. K. Killebrew, J. B. Brako, J. Luther Brako, E. A. Brako, A. F. Brako, R. B. Brako, R. E. Currin, J. P. Young, J. D. Robbins, J. S. Gorman, J. H. Pollard, W. W. Meares, M. F. Jones, W. G. Weeks, Willis Proctor, J. C. Daughtridge, S. Robbins, A. T. Griffin, Dr. I. P. Battle, J. P. Bunn, W. S. Wilkinson, and J. L. Dupree.

Bust of Will Rogers in Ice

Carved out of solid ice at Hibbing (Minn.), is this bust of Will Rogers, humorist, who died 18 months ago in a plane crash in Alaska. The bust is believed to be the largest ice statuary in the United States, being 22 feet high and weighing 100 tons. Under a floodlight, the bust appears as if made of white marble.

Rocky Mount Is Air-Minded

We do not know whether the $7500 expert has arrived in the city, but we do see that four stools have been put up at the main crossings at the railroad which is evidence that the work has been begun; especially that part of estimating how much economic loss there is to the citizens of Rocky Mount occasioned by the waiting for trains. We wonder just how they are going to be able to figure it. Many of our people say their time has not been worth much and that the waiting had given them a rest and a time for reflection and under the rules of condemnation proceedings, the law requires you to figure the benefits as well as damages. Now, we do not know if these experts who are keeping account of the number of cars and the loss of time will figure whether we are losing or winning by the stopping. It is generally believed that more time is lost by waiting for red lights than is lost by waiting for the train but no one would say that we are not benefitted at times by waiting for red lights instead of running through them. These are all very complicated matters which the expert who is being paid $7500 for ninety days may be able to solve and give some light. The public does not seem to desire this light, but it may help the Board of Aldermen arrive at a conclusion. The Board of Aldermen spent $160,000 for an airport which shows that Rocky Mount is air-minded at least to the amount of spending large amounts of money.

Why are lawyers opposed to the enlargement of the Supreme Court, advocated by our President of the United States. We do not believe that a majority of the lawyers of the country are opposed to it. There is a tendency to use the names of two or three so-called prominent lawyers in a community as being one way or the other. Then going out and saying that all of the attorneys are that certain way when those few have been heard from.

We do not undertake to say that any lawyer does not act and think on his own responsibility, but we generally find that where a lawyer holds very large retainers and receives very large fees from certain clients that their viewpoint is with that of the client's or either the clients is with his lawyer. This may give the explanation as to why many of our prominent lawyers of the country who represent the great special interest of the country feel that the Supreme Court should not be enlarged; for it is easier to have nine judges than perhaps fifteen when they know what the nine are doing and would not know what the six additional ones were considering.

The unprecedented number of violent deaths in and near Rocky Mount in the last two months calls for serious consideration and immediate action from those in authority and entrusted with our welfare and from the public as a whole. The number killed and wounded by the automobile and other violent means has been so large that if this had taken place in London, the English Parliament would at once have called forth an investigation to the end that relief might be had. We dare say that more violent deaths have taken place in this small area in the last two months than took place in the whole of the city of London. There is a cause for it and there must be a plan that could give relief.

We have always felt in North Carolina that most of our safety laws and devices have been too closely allied and entwined with the Department of Revenue and the officer entrusted with the safety of our lives has felt very largely that when he had collected a generous amount of taxes, that he had discharged his whole duty to society. We have no criticism of the officer. The criticism is aimed at the duties of collecting revenue being pushed on our safety officers where it should never be. How long will this continue before something is done? The figures are horrifying. What is true of this locality, is prevalent throughout North Carolina.

AFTER 194 YEARS ASSEMBLY AGAIN MEETS IN EDENTON

PROTEST MADE AGAINST HOUR EXTENSION ABC

Declares "Liberal Tendency" Should Not Go Unchallenged

Registering a vigorous protest against the extension of open hours by the ABC authority Rev. E. R. Dwight Ware at the First Methodist church Sunday night called upon the authority to rescind its recent action and return to the shorter business hours. "I am willing," he said "that this liberal tendency in the direction of encouraging intemperance should go unchallenged."

The minister was discussing the recent ruling of the ABC authority by which, beginning March 6, the hours of business were lengthened by two hours, so that the closing hours for the operation of the stores becomes eight o'clock daily instead of six o'clock as previously.

"The argument that the open hours had to be extended in order to compete with the ever active bootlegger is entirely fatuous," Mr. Ware continued, "because in the first place the originators of the whole plan contended that the establishment of the stores would do away with bootlegging, and because further, since this is not the case, the logic of the situation would call for the operation of the stores on a 24-hour schedule for every day including Sunday—a practice that public opinion would never begin to tolerate."

The Methodist minister went on to say that all who gave conscientious thought to the situation could not escape the feeling that the extension is expired by a lust for profit and taxes. "Coming as it does, it is quite apparent that the principal of legalized sale has degenerated from a program of temperance, control and supervision to one where the drive for monetary gain is uppermost."

"Even where there may be respect for the ABC system in theory," he said, "the recent action extending the open hours brings the whole project under suspicion and opens the integrity of the program to very serious question."

The former British monarch, it was said, still is planning to wed the woman for whom he gave up his throne on about April 27 or May 1, Mrs. Simpson's divorce decree from Ernest Aldrich Simpson was made final April 27.

The informant said the Duke's trip to France probably would be announced from his Enfield, Austria retreat as a "three or four day Eastern excursion."

Windsor was reported planning to start the trip next week, with the reunion to be held in or near Paris.

At Monts, France, Herman L. Rogers, spokesman for Mrs. Simpson, declared she knew nothing of the reported reunion plans.

"Summer D. Parker of Baltimore, Md. asserted today at Cherbourg, France, that he is negotiating with the Duke of Windsor for sale to him of a Brooklandville, Md., estate. He indicated the sale was almost completed."

It was reported the former king is planning the late April or May marriage after being persuaded by his brother, the Duke of Kent, that a change merely would arouse additional publicity.

The Austrian period for publication bans is expected to be shortened considerably for the Duke.

Meanwhile, reliable reports said, he has withheld arrangements for a residence for himself and his prospective bride until after he has discussed the subject with Mrs. Simpson.

Point Pleasant, W. Va., March 17.—Night Police Chief Grover Hite said today a well-dressed young woman of about 20 years, found lying beside the Charleston-Point Pleasant road, had been identified as Mary Hughes of Rocky Mount, North Carolina.

Hite added she still was unable to identify herself, and said she had been remembered as a girl who came to Point Pleasant after the February flood, looking for a job.

Road commission workers found her beside the road about six miles from here.

When notified of the girl's being identified as a local resident, police here were unable to find anyone, who knew her or any record that she had lived in the city.

Funeral services for A. J. Johnson, well known Edgecombe county farmer were conducted from his home near Elm City with the Rev. Mr. Smith of Elm City officiating.

Interment followed in Greenwood cemetery at Tarboro.

Mr. Johnson died Saturday at the age of 70 at his home on the old Dr. Mercer farm, seven miles from here. He had been ill two weeks with pneumonia.

Surviving are his widow, who before marriage was Miss Mary Frances Hardy of Mt. Tabor; four daughters, Mrs. P. E. Busche, of Washington, D. C., Mrs. C. L. Bottoms of Norfolk, Mrs. J. E. Hart of Norfolk and Mrs. C. W. T. Tomble of Elm City; five sons, J. E. Johnson of New Orleans, W. E. Johnson of Norfolk, J. C. Johnson of Tarboro, A. C. Johnson of Pinebluffs and G. D. Johnson of Rocky Mount; three brothers, all living in South Carolina, and fifteen grandchildren.

Funeral services for George W. Bradley, 59, were held from his home on the Tarboro highway with Elder A. B. Denson, Primitive Baptist minister, officiating. Interment followed in Pineview cemetery.

Mr. Bradley died at home following an extended illness.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Martha Griffin Bradley; three sons, George, Jr., James, and Russell Bradley; two brothers, Frank Bradley and Lawrence Bradley, both of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. Leslie Calhoun and Miss Beulah Bradley, also of this city.

Active pallbearers at the services were R. C. Brown, W. W. Bulluck, J. S. Hinton, H. L. Redmond, W. B. Bradley, and W. H. Lanier.

Honorary pallbearers included Leslie Calhoun, J. G. Fezzer, R. B. Denson, Dr. A. T. Thorp, W. M. Daughtridge, P. C. Vestal, A. L. Dozier, W. K. Killebrew, J. B. Brako, J. Luther Brako, E. A. Brako, A. F. Brako, R. B. Brako, R. E. Currin, J. P. Young, J. D. Robbins, J. S. Gorman, J. H. Pollard, W. W. Meares, M. F. Jones, W. G. Weeks, Willis Proctor, J. C. Daughtridge, S. Robbins, A. T. Griffin, Dr. I. P. Battle, J. P. Bunn, W. S. Wilkinson, and J. L. Dupree.

EDWARD SAID TO BE GOING TO FRANCE

London, March 15.—An Easter meeting in France with Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson is being planned by the Duke of Windsor, trustworthy Austrian advices reaching London said today.

The former British monarch, it was said, still is planning to wed the woman for whom he gave up his throne on about April 27 or May 1, Mrs. Simpson's divorce decree from Ernest Aldrich Simpson was made final April 27.

The informant said the Duke's trip to France probably would be announced from his Enfield, Austria retreat as a "three or four day Eastern excursion."

Windsor was reported planning to start the trip next week, with the reunion to be held in or near Paris.

At Monts, France, Herman L. Rogers, spokesman for Mrs. Simpson, declared she knew nothing of the reported reunion plans.

"Summer D. Parker of Baltimore, Md. asserted today at Cherbourg, France, that he is negotiating with the Duke of Windsor for sale to him of a Brooklandville, Md., estate. He indicated the sale was almost completed."

It was reported the former king is planning the late April or May marriage after being persuaded by his brother, the Duke of Kent, that a change merely would arouse additional publicity.

The Austrian period for publication bans is expected to be shortened considerably for the Duke.

Meanwhile, reliable reports said, he has withheld arrangements for a residence for himself and his prospective bride until after he has discussed the subject with Mrs. Simpson.

Point Pleasant, W. Va., March 17.—Night Police Chief Grover Hite said today a well-dressed young woman of about 20 years, found lying beside the Charleston-Point Pleasant road, had been identified as Mary Hughes of Rocky Mount, North Carolina.

Hite added she still was unable to identify herself, and said she had been remembered as a girl who came to Point Pleasant after the February flood, looking for a job.

Road commission workers found her beside the road about six miles from here.

When notified of the girl's being identified as a local resident, police here were unable to find anyone, who knew her or any record that she had lived in the city.

NOTICE

Those desiring to subscribe to The Rocky Mount Herald may do so by sending $1.00 with name and address to The Rocky Mount Herald, Rocky Mount, N. C.

Name

Town, State, Route No.....