

SURE SHOTS

Meek Voice: "Doctor, this is Mr. Henpeck. My wife has just dislocated her jaw. If you're out this way within the next week or two, you might drop in."

Katie: "Well, at last I've gotten a raise in salary."

Marty: "Honestly?"

Katie: "Oh, don't be so darn inquisitive!"

"You know there's a baby born in New York every minute."

"Well, don't look at me that way - I live in Philadelphia."

Somebody wrote in to ask if we knew the difference between a little girl and a big girl. 'Can't see where there's any doubt. One is older than the other. One is younger than the other. The little girl likes to be tucked in bed. Gosh, why did we ever bring us such a question?

A GI wrote his dad he was having a terrible time mastering the French language. His dad wrote him that to learn it he would have to sleep with it. Later on the GI wrote his dad that he was still having difficulty, but that when he was on leave in London he really brushed up on his English.

It's anyone's guess which is the most interesting. What a woman puts in her suit case, what a salesman puts in his expense account, or what a chorus girl puts into her trunks.

"Grandpappy, you're getting pretty old and feeble. Don't you think you'd better go to the poor house?"

"You dadburn right, sonny, I'm a-raring'. Let's get goin'."

"I can't understand why you're so anxious to go to a poor house."

"Poor House? Poor house. Ye gods, I thought you said..... Aw, skip it. Just let me dream."

Teacher: "Now, children, every morning you ought to take a cold shower; and that will make you feel rosy all over. Are there any questions?"

Boy in back of room: "Yeah, teacher, tell us more about Rosie."

They're taking him away in an ambulance for beating his wife.

A good looking girl had just been brought into the hospital for an operation. The doctor examined her and told her to undress and prepare for the ordeal: She did so and climbed on a wheel table, after which the nurse covered her with a sheet and left.

Presently down the hall came a man clothed in white from head to foot. He paused when he came to the girl, lifted the sheet and took a look, then dropped it and went on his way. Behind him came another white clad figure who did the same, and then came a third and repeated the action.

"For heaven's sake", cried the nervous patient, "when are you going to operate?"

The man in white cleared his throat, "Darned if I know, lady," he answered, "We're just the painters here."

Lecturer: "Potts was a great man. At his death three towns were named after him: Pottsville, Pottstown, and Chambersburg".

Unto the hat the girdle said, "Proceed, my darling dear, "Go on ahead, I shall bring up the rear."

"Don't you think the speaker sounds like he was a little hoarse?"

"Yes, ascertain part of the horse".

Old Maid: "I can't decide between the divan and the armchair."

Clark: "Lady, you can't make a mistake on a nice comfortable chair like this."

Old Maid: "O.K. I'll take the divan."

"What does the talking hen say when she lays a square egg?"

"You tell me."

"Ouch!"

The sweet young thing goes out on a date. She has to walk back. She writes in her diary: "My pedal extremities are my best friends." On the second date she has to walk still further. She writes: "Dear Diary: My pedal extremities are my best friends." On the third date, she returns and writes: "Dear Diary: Even the best of friends must part."
