"Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you."
John 14:27.

Physical victory or defeat leaves truth untouched. When the fight is over, and two boys, battered, red-faced, and disheveled, stand looking at each other, the thing about which they fought remains exactly where it was. Victory in war does not guarantee peace and blessedness, but it does provide an opportunity for us, under the guidance of God, to build a better, happier world where peace and brotherhood shall reign.

When the roar of the guns shall cease and the clash of arms is halted it becomes one of the major duties of us as Christians to take our stand on the side of eternal right and justice and to show by our radiant faith that the way of love belongs to the eternal world.

In another day and another war, as the battle neared a little village an old lady rushed out, brandishing an old broom handle as a weapon "Grandma, you can't fight with that," said a young man. "But I can show which side I am on," was her quick reply. Today we must show that we are on the side of justice and brotherhood.

PRAYER

Eternal God, give us the wisdom and grace to build worthily and courageously a new world. Help us to take our stand on the side of eternal truth. Amen

EDITOR'S CORNER: June 14th and 15th convinced me one hundred per cent that I was associated with the finest publication conceivable. And why these dates- just you listen G.I's. The Service Wives, supported by an all-Edgecombe cast, staged one of the most interesting and successful stage performances ever seen here. Over $400.00 was net from the show, and every dime was contributed to getting the Home Front News to YOU. The cast trained mornings, afternoons, and late at night, to see that you, our heroes, are kept in touch with your loved ones. So stay in there and pitch, and watch us back here "run interference".
