EDITOR EARNHART RESIGNS

War ends; Bill comes back and Geo requests a well deserved leave of absence as HFN Editor. Geo has spent a lot of words telling you what you have done - now let me tell you what Geo. has done. Going under the theory that a busy man does the best job we got the busiest man in town to edit the HFN. We got Geo. Result we had a wonderful paper but it kept Geo's nose to the proverbial grindstone until it was shinier than a babys backside after ten banister trips Night after night Geo. and his wife work until wee hours; Sunday is just a day you work 100% on the paper. Geo fought one war you know but the first one wasn't as hard on him as this one. His health was none too good and his job as City Clerk wasn't exactly a rest cure by itself without taking on all his other many civic duties. Then all of the "dear people (in civilian clothes) did not like Geo's stories and had much to say on his ruining the morals of the Armed forces and of course this worried our Geo more than a little. Of course we are a little prejudiced in Geo's favor and we think if all the laughs that came from Service Men as a result of HFN jokes were put together the blast would rival the atomic bomb. And we believe in service men laughing each and every time they can. Lets remember George when we come home; all of us like to hear a good word so give George the best words you have. He has done a magnificent job and we are proud he lives in our town and is an Edgecombe citizen. And Geo. knows exactly how you feel about not getting out right this minute. In World War One he was marching with the Army of occupation further and further away from home and passing guys all the time who were going the other way ... who were going home Yes he knows how you feel and he will not think V-J day or any other day of any importance has come to pass until every last man who wants to come home is home. Our best and snappiest salute to your Ex-Editor of the HFN.

er Jimmie met on Guam recently. After the meeting the two go to see their Brother in law Capt. Earl Stirewalt also stationed on Guam Chas C. Williams, USNR is stationed on the aircraft carrier the USS Intrepid whose record includes 80 enemy ships sunk or damaged.

BUILDS BRITISH BARRACKS: Pfc. Richard Babcock, USMC, wounded twice by shrapnel; jaw knocked out of place by 40 mm gun; recovered 100% is on the way to China; there he will spend some several months building British Bks. He does not want to build British Bks; he wants to come home. Why can't the British build their own Bks. etc etc.

SHALL THE HFN CONTINUE?

You as Edgecombe County service men are to answer this question As long as there are any service men who are retained in the service against their will we will try to supply you news from home if you want it. Many of you are out - more are about to get out - address change over night - the job will be hard but if you want it we want you to have it. The Tarboro Rotary Club believes in finishing any job it starts to a final and definite conclusion.
