AT WHITESIDE ESTATES an attractive new model home is open for your inspection. The ranch-type design contains three bedrooms, two full baths, spacious living room with crab orchard fireplace, kitchen which is completely equipped with G.E. appliances and cabinets; and garage. All walls insulated. Rooms are pannelled in pine, poplar and chestnut. Large picture windows overlook the spacious porch and afford views of the famed Cashiers Valley. An established lawn surrounds the home and a circular drive affords entrance. Advt.

OUR THANKS

With this, the tenth issue of the 1954 season, we bring to a close the publication of the Galax News until another summer comes. Seven years of news publication has now passed into history, this year being the third year under the present editor. It has been a pleasure to serve the people of Highlands and surrounding area in this capacity. It has been quite gratifying to note the wholehearted cooperation of so many in connection with this project.

We wish to thank again the advertisers who make possible the

THE COUNTRY MOUSE

Dear Amos:

Better dust up the old shoe and tighten up the laces-for I'm coming home all loaded down with things for you and Ben and the children!

Summer has been all too short here, with so many interesting things to see and do--to say nothing of the grand shopping. I'll have lots to tell you about Hill-billy Day-when I made such a hit riding on the barrell of an old flint rifle all through the parade! I've spent lots of time at an awfully dolled up Auction place here, and done some knitting here and there, and have actually visited the original Ark-to say nothing of spending a great deal of time with the Original Colonies! You and Ben would have felt quite at home at these places, and I wish you could have been here. But I must confess that I have enjoyed most my visit to my cousin's place out in the country! She keeps showing up with such unusual things that my Christmas list has grown by leaps and bounds, as I find things that just suit so many of our neighbors there! (Better give them a hint, for you know how bad it is to give more than
