Highlands is again putting on the summer "spirit". Cars from Florida, Georgia, South Carolina, etc., have put in their appearance. Summer residents are arriving to open their homes for the new season, making necessary repairs, and otherwise getting ready to enjoy another summer where it is air conditioned by nature.

Business places in town are also making ready their places of business for the new season. Several new buildings have been built since last summer, others have been enlarged or repaired, and new equipment has been installed, in order to better serve the public.

For the past five years the Galax News has been edited by the former Miss Mary Summer, now Mrs. J.W. Norman. This summer she is living in Cullowhee, N.C. where her husband is a senior at Western Carolina College.

The Galax News office will be at its previous location, the O.F. Summer home, where all work on the paper is done. The phone number is 2495.
