HIGHLANDS COMMUNITY THEATRE NOTES FROM OLD SCHOOL HILL-BY Mrs. Jack Wilcox

In 1937, a small group of Highlanders, summer and year-around residents, started the HCT. In 1950, when theatre lights were last on, the group was much larger and productions had been praised for their professional polish. Now, at the request of the Town of Highlands, the Theatre is again in operation, as part of the recreational program and opportunity for creative activity offered by the Town.

The formula for success is the same: community talent under expert direction. The sounds and sights on Old School Hill.. Come see, hear and help make them...are the same: hammering and sawing, flats going up, lines being read; preachers turned carpenters, college professors painting with college students, teen-agers at jobs that are fun because they are done together, school boys and girls finding that "something to do" they had been plaguing their parents about.

Fred Coney Allen, the director...who will be best rembered for his handsome staging of The Doctor In Spite of Himself in 1950...announces that Harvey, one of the most successful comedies of the decade, will be the opening play, July 3rd, 4th and 5th, curtain time 8:30, tickets on sale soon, all seats reserved.

Remember Jimmy Reese, who came from Atlanta to work with us in 1940 and 1941? You have seen him oft en in the past few years on all of the biggest TV theatre programs. As his contribution toward this season's success, Jimmy has made special arrangements to come from New York to play the famous role of Elwood P. Dowd.
