

V I P

*Very Important Proposition -- to the family who wants its pleasure in the clouds and the expense down to earth. Imagine high, cool, serene Summers. . breath-taking Spring and Fall beauty in a mountain wonderland. . Winter splendor you can revel in to your heart's content! Yes, it's all yours at Flat Mountain Estates, N.C. Plus telephone and electric service; two, deep mountain wells with piped connection to all acreage; and an all-the-way paved road that gets you to the downtown clock in 8 minutes.

There are 125 acres available NOW. And now is the time to compare this V.I.P. with your get-away-from-it-all dreams.

FLAT MOUNTAIN Estates
HIGHLANDS, N.C.

Call owner at 2161 or Mel Keener, 4284 for the details.

HARLAN P. KELSEY DIES

Word was received here this week of the death of Mr. Harlan P. Kelsey in Tapsfield, Massachusetts. He died on Monday evening and burial was Wednesday in Salem, Mass.

Harlan P. Kelsey was one of five children of S.T. Kelsey, founder of Highlands. The latter, with his brother-in-law C.C. Hutchinson, surveyed the site of Highlands prior to its founding in 1875.

He (Harlan Kelsey) spent his childhood and early manhood in Highlands, and was engaged in the nursery business most of his life.

The Kelsey home, now known as Kanonah, was one of the first houses built in Highlands.

MR. HARRY HOLT

Mr. Harry A. Holt is spending a few weeks here at Highlands Community Hospital prior to being transferred to a Nursing home in Haywood County.

Mr. Holt has been a patient in an Atlanta hospital and a nursing home there for almost a year.

ART EXHIBITION

The Art Exhibition held in the Cobb Building on July 25 and 26 was the third annual one held in Highlands and the second one to include crafts. Here one saw the work of those who were masters of their chosen medium as well as the work of those who were having a lot of fun mastering a medium. There were names of artists in our little catalog that also appear in catalogs of national museums and names of artists whose work shows promise of becoming nationally known. What fun it will be to keep track of them as they climb to the top!

Among the portraits that attracted much favorable comment was the portrait of Mrs. Gumbel by Bernice Fernow. While the pictures were being hung Mrs. Gumbel came in for a moment looking as if she had just walked out of her portrait. Nearby was the portrait of Amanda by her father, Jay Hyde Barnum, the portrait of a happy, vitally-alive child. Then a little further along was Watson Barratt's charcoal sketch of "L.B.B.", where with a minimum of line he made you see a woman with beautiful, finely-chiseled features, a woman with strength and sweetness, one who would make the lives of

(Con't on page 8)