A JOY TO BEHOLD

by John T. Gordon

One of the advantages of teaching in Alaska and having a summer home in Highlands is the education I receive in traveling back and forth. There have been many unique and worthwhile experiences, to be sure; but, the one most vivid to me was on the train returning to North Carolina for the summer.

I was in the Club car of the train heading from Chicago to Atlanta when a long, tall, bow-legged fellow came in and sat down by my side. "Pardner," he said, "where you from?" "North Carolina," I said. "Well, I'm from Texas," he said,

FUND DRIVE NEWS

by William H. Melvin

We are proud of and wish to congratulate our glowing public spirited ladies, and various organizations who so cheerfully gave of their time and substance for the success of the Four Seasons Fair, sponsored by the Hospital Auxiliary. It's success was well deserved!

Following in the same vein of thought, one wonders if all the people of the Highlands area fully appreciate the high regard and significant position held by our Biological Station that draws so many distinguished authorities here for study and

ESCAPE SERIOUS INJURY

Mr. Barak Wright and his four-year-old son, Tommy, escaped serious injury in a freak accident at their home on the Dillard Road, Sunday night.

Mr. Wright and Tommy had just gotten in the front seat of their car with his daughters in the back seat. Tommy reached to close the door but it swung out, dragging him with it. Barak reached to catch him and in so doing released the clutch causing the car to roll backward. He jumped out and pushed Tommy out of the

POLLYANNA

A possible Academy Award winner will be shown at the Galax Theatre, August 23, when Walt Disney's 1960 version of "Pollyanna" is shown in a continuous performance beginning at 2 p.m. and continuing through four showings as a benefit for the Highlands Community Hospital.

The Technicolor picture includes the most impressive list of stars ever to be included in a Disney production. Three of them--Jane Wyman, Karl Malden and Donald Crisp--are already Academy Award winners. Besides that, Walter Plunkett, costume designer for "Pollyanna," and designer of costumes for "Gone With the Wind"
