(HOSPITAL BAZAAR CON'T)

hand-made articles such as baby afghans, receiving blankets, various kinds of pin cushions, sweater bags, quilts, sun bon-nets, travelers sewing kits, Hide-a-rolls, white elephants, covered coat hangers, sour clothes bags, children's dresses, blanket covers, luncheon sets, matched napkins, aprons, potted plants, cut flowers, cakes, jams, jellies, cookies, pickles, and many other items not mentioned.

Mr. Richard Harrison has spent much time and work in making wooden bowls, bird feeders, garden stools, and other hand-made articles. Mr. Eugene Carter has made suet feeders, mempo pads, and knife holders for the kitchen.

The merchants of the area will have a booth of numerous valuable and useful items. There will be a food booth sponsored by the Order of the Eastern Star.
The Women of the Methodist Church will serve luncheon plates at noon.

This event usually proves to be a most enjoyable and rewarding one--and for such a worthy cause. So come early, buy your Christmas gifts, and have a wonderful time.

The amount raised this year will go toward the purchase of an auxiliary power system which will be of great value in case of power failure in the Hospital.

Belle Montrose, mother of famed TV star Steve Allen, a vaudeville headliner herself for most of her 74 years, makes her movie debut in Walt Disney's new comedy, "The Absent Minded Professor," playing at the Galax Theatre Fri-Sat, July 21-22.
