CAMP HIGHLANDER HIGHLIGHTS

A week has gone by since the second session boys arrived at Camp Highlander, and they have had some beautiful weather for their camping trips and other camp activities their first week.

Tennis tournaments and baseball and basketball competitions will begin soon, after the boys have been introduced to the camp activities at the riflery range, the stables, the swimming pool, the canoe lake and other fascinating aspects of the camp.

Ralph Tabor, camp night program director, says that since there are so many talented piano players in the group this year, he is planning a recital for a later date.

Dorothy Simone runs a very popular craft shop at the camp; over 400 pieces made last session.

NATURE PHOTOGRAPHY.

The speakers will discuss various photographic techniques and equipment and will illustrate the lecture with colored slides and black and white enlargements. Apparatus used in making black and white negatives from color slides will be shown as well as tinted photographs.

Dr. Frederick Georgia is at present visiting Professor of Mathematics at Clarkson College of Technology, Potsdam, New York. One of his hobbies is color photography. Mrs. Georgia, formerly on the faculty of Grinnell College, Iowa, is a biologist and is leading the adult nature walks at the Museum this summer. She has long been interested in photography and has developed and printed all the black and white photographs that will be shown.

Those interested in the techniques of photography, especially nature subjects, are invited to attend.

NUN'S CEREMONIES REAL

As a fascinating accompaniment to the adventures of Sister Luke in "The Nun's Story," at the Galax Theatre Wed., August 9, the mysteries and beauties of the final vow-taking ceremonies as novices become nuns is shown for the first time to lay audiences.

A complete chapel was constructed for the feature at Centro Sperimentale Studios in Rome.
