EPISCOPAL SILVER TEA TODAY

The annual Silver Tea, sponsored by the Churchwomen of the Church of the Incarnation, will be held this afternoon, Thursday, August 3rd, from 4 until 6, at the home of Colonel and Mrs. James H. Howe in Horse Cove. The public is most cordially invited.

On his visit here last Sunday, Bishop Henry preached at both the 9 and 11 o'clock services, and confirmed several.

The vestry of the parish will meet on Monday evening at 7:30 in the Fellowship Hall of the Church.

Sunday services at the Episcopal Church are at 8, 9, and 11 a.m. Weekday services are on Tuesdays at 8 a.m. and on Thursdays at 10 a.m.

PIANO TEACHERS WORKSHOP

Final plans for the Piano Teachers' Workshop at the Brevard Music Center, August 6-9, have been announced by Dr. James Christian Pfohl, founder and director.

A faculty composed of four outstanding artist teachers includes; Roy McAllister, Professor of Music and Piano Pedagogy, Univ. of Alabama; Louise Nelson Pfohl, Artist Teacher, Charlotte, N. C.; Digby Bell, Assistant Professor of Music, Univ. of Oklahoma; and Clemens Sandresky, Dean of Salem College of Music, Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

A special feature of the workshop, whose theme will be sharing problems in piano teaching and presenting new ideas and techniques, will be recitals by Ruth Slenczynska and piano-duo, Luboshutz and Nemenoff.

BRAXTON APPROVED

A Senate judiciary subcommittee unanimously approved on Tuesday, August 1, the selection of James Braxton Craven, Jr. of Morganton, N. C., as the new Western North Carolina district federal judge.

Mr. Craven is a lawyer, former solicitor, & U.S. district attorney

"ELEPHANT WALK"

"Elephant Walk" which will play at the Galax Theatre Thursday, August 3, stars the beautiful Elizabeth Taylor, who recently scored so tremendously in "Butterfield 8," Dana Andrews and Peter Finch.

A dramatic tale of love and adventure, "Elephant Walk" probes deep into the character of the strange land of Ceylon with its vast tea plantations and magnificent herds of giant elephants.

Miss Taylor, in this re-release of one of her earlier hits, portrays a young woman who marries a man she hardly knows (Finch) and then goes to live with him on his Ceylon tea plantation. Once there he becomes an arrogant, impossible person and the young bride turns for comfort to Andrews, the handsome American foreman of the plantation.

The triangle is played out against an unusual and excitement charged background climaxed by a breathtaking stampede of maddened elephants--one of the all time great scenes in movie-making history.

Offering fans adventurous thrills and romantic excitement in abundant measure, "Elephant Walk" provides eye-opening views of faraway places, and in Technicolor, too!
