BYERS STYLE CENTER OPENS

The Byers Style Center, located on Main Street, opened last week for the season. This marks the 16th year Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Byers have operated their shop here in Highlands. Mrs. Byers reported that they opened two week earlier this year because of the demand for ladies' and mens' sportswear here. She also stated that a very successful season was anticipated. Mrs. Martha Crisp will help in the store this year.

Various brand names carried in Byers Style Center include: for the ladies, Dillager dresses, blouses, and sweaters, Weejuns loafers, Davey's bags, London Fog rain coats, Gold Cup socks, Lady Manhattan dresses, blouses and skirts, and Gordon Ford shorts and slacks; for the men, Manhattan, London Fog jackets, Nanis Casual shirts, and a gift line. The Byers have a year around store in Anderson, S. C., and if you can't find what you want here, it can be ordered from Anderson in a few days.

DUKE STUDENT ARRIVES

The student assistant for Highlands and Cashiers Methodist Churches, Mr. John E. Davis, Jr., will arrive on June 9th, and will hold his first service in Cashiers on Sunday June 10th, at 11 a.m. Mr. Davis is from Charlotte, N. C., and worked last summer at Bryson City for five weeks. He will spend ten weeks in Highlands and Cashiers, helping with the young people's program and preaching each Sunday in one of the two churches in turn.

CAMP HIGHLANDER TO OPEN

June 13th is set for the opening date for Camp Highlander. Boys from six different state will soon be arriving and many of the counselors are already here. The Camp is owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Wax and has been open every summer for the past several years.

SATULAH CLUB MEETS

The June meeting of the Satulah Club was held Monday afternoon, June 4th, in the Hudson Library Annex with fifteen members and one guest present.

A favorable report was given of the bake sale held May 26th, the proceeds amounting to over $28.

A rummage sale was planned for early in September and members and friends of the Club are asked to collect items for the sale.

Mr. Paul Seaton, who just completed his freshman year at the University of N. C., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Seaton for a few days.
