(COLONIAL PINES CONT FROM PAGE 2)

Highlands Ball Park.

Upon driving in the lovely spacious yard, one is greeted by the large friendly house. The house itself sits upon a hill and large white columns on the porch truly depict colonial style. The porch goes three-fourths around the house, giving a grand view of the yard from all sides. The yard is surrounded by tall whispering pines in a hedge, and in the yard, stately oaks give dignity to the fresh scene. A huge rose bush is on one side of the house, while at the back, a whole row of magnificent rhododendrom forms a striking hedge of beauty. These rhododendron, planted many years ago, have grown to unusual size.

The living room of the house is cool and fresh; a south picture window gives a full view of Satulah mountain. From this window is seen a constant moving picture of beautiful scenery, as clouds move along and make continuing shadows on the mountain. Three lovely seascapes done in water color by G. V. Strauss hang in the living room. Mr. Strauss was a personal friend of the Coals. A large brick fireplace will add a cheerful note in rainy weather. Kerman Oriental and Persian rugs adorn the floor.

In the hallway, called by Mrs. Coal as the "Chinese Hallway," are perfectly lovely Chinese samples of art. Chinese vases, pictures, table and desk of hand carved teakwood and an iron elephant over 100 years old are a few items of interest.

The dining room contains a lovely colonial tapestry, as well as a large mahogany chest which is very old.

The bed rooms contain twin beds, wall to wall carpeting, large walk-in closets with carpeting, private baths, and each room has a cute set of lamps. The whole house is finished in a lovely pine finish.

Heat is supplied by the newest and most modern oil furnace and a system called "jet heat." It is clean and efficient, supplying comfort and warmth when needed.

It was interesting to note that all work at "Colonial Pines" was done by local workers. Mr. Alvin Crowe and Company did the construction, the Colonial Shop supplied the lovely rugs, some articles were bought at Highlands Art Gallery, and other work done was all by local personnel.

Drive out and take a look for yourself at the lovely spot. It's located 1/2 mile North of town near the ball Park. Perhaps you would like to spend a quiet few days there. We think you will love it!
