AWAKE

The world says that I walk alone-
How little does it know!
The world keeps sounding in my ears
Its own uncertain doubts and fears,
Its dread of what the passing years
May hold, as on I go.

The world says that I walk alone-
How little can it tell!
LIFE points the shining upward way,
TRUTH guides and guards my path today,
LOVE gently whispers, come what may
HE doth all things well.

The world says that I walk alone-
How little does it see!
Each hour new assurance brings,
My heart looks up, and softly sings,
I feel the touch of Angel Wings
Forever close to me.

Gods children never are alone,
No matter how it seems.
A LOVE beyond all human ken,
Beyond all words of tongue or pen,
Is here to heal each heartache--when
We wake from our dreams!

HIGHLANDS MUSIC FESTIVAL

The two concerts of the annual Highlands Music Festival will be Thursday, July 16, and Monday, August 20, it was announced by Dr. James Christian Pfohl, director of the Brevard Music Center.

The first concert will feature as soloists Beverly Wolff, one of the nation's rising young mezzo-sopranos, and Edward Vito, who was Toscaninni's harpist in the NBC Symphony Orchestra.

Husband and wife vocalists Peter Harrower and Irene Calloway will be featured in the second concert. Both Fulbright award winners, they met and married in Italy. Mr. Harrower is a bass-baritone and Miss Calloway a lyric soprano.

The Brevard Music Center Symphony Orchestra will play for both concerts, which will be held in the Highlands High School Auditorium.

KLIP 'N KURL OPENS

A new beauty shop, called the "Klip 'N Kurl" has opened here. It is located on Main Street, across from the Galax Theatre, and is owned and operated by Miss Martha Reese, of Highlands. Miss Reese has been well trained and has had five years of experience in the beauty business. She has worked in Canton, N.C. East Point, and Atlanta, Ga.

The Klip'N Kurl is an attractive shop, with drift wood wall coloring, soft white tile floor, mahogany color cabinets and lovely red and white dryer chairs. Other chairs are of a grey and black ensemble, and they blend beautifully with the over-all color scheme.

Miss Reese uses only nationally known products such as Helene Curtis. The Shop is open nights by appointment. You may call 5715 for appointments, or just drop in.
