GOVERNOR'S WEEK- END

Next week-end will be Governor's Week end at the Brevard Music Center. North Carolina Governor Terry Sanford will head a list of dignitaries to be there.

He will be introduced and make brief remarks at a concert Saturday evening when violinist Penny Ambrose will be featured as soloist.

The Governor will also be in the audience when a panel of business and civic leaders discuss "Music and the South" Saturday afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock. Panel moderator will be William Herring, director of the Arts Council of Winston-Salem.

Panelist are Dr. Vittorio Giannini, professor of composition at Juilliard and Manhattan Schools of Music; Gordon Hanes, president of Hanes Hosiery Mills, Winston-Salem; Wallace Magill of New York, producer of the Bell Telephone Hour; C. A. McKnight, editor of the Charlotte Observer; and Robert L. Rierson, program operations manager for Station WBTV in Charlotte.

Visitors will make a tour of the Transylvania Music Camp and will be feted at several social function.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Sixteen boys of Boy Scout Troop 207 enjoyed a camping trip last week. They left Friday afternoon for Rich Mountain, which is located northeast of Cliffside. Included in the activities were a 5 mile hike and a visit to Cliffside Lake. Several boys made the requirements for Second Class.

The truck used on the trip belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Neville Bryson of Highlands. The Troop is very grateful for the generosity of the Brysons. Scoutmaster

Ellison Magruder accompanied the boys and was assisted by Senior Scouts Jimmy Crawford, Jr., Edward Potts, Jr., Robert Rice, Jr., and Kurt Shuler.

Regular Scout meetings are held on Saturday afternoons at 2:00 in the Magruder and O'Brien Office.

FELLOWSHIP HOUR HELD-BAPTIST CHURCH

On Sunday evening, July 15, a number of people stayed after the worship service to participate in the Fellowship Hour. This hour consisted of Fun, Fellowship, and Food. Each Sunday night there will be a fellowship following the evening worship services, and will be held in the Recreation Room. Miss Betty Jean Crawford will be in charge this coming Sunday night.
