Fall and are eager to add to their mailing list. The shop is located 100 yards north of the intersection of U. S. 64 and N.C. 107 in Cashiers, and a warm welcome awaits you there! Assisting the Conkles are Miss Aileene Pennington, Miss Hilda Holland, and Mrs. Thomas F. Dillard, all of Cashiers.

Mr. George McCall of Marion, N.C. arrived Tuesday to spend the week with his son and family, Rev. and Mrs. G. Dan McCall.

"THUNDER IN CAROLINA"

The story, with a stock car racing background, has an extra quota of thrills and spills sprinkled throughout. Completely filmed on location in the Darlington, S. C. area, the color camera has captured some beautiful and pictorially striking background in addition to the action of the story. This is the location of the famous "Southern 500," the stock car racing classic that is run each Labor Day before a crowd of over 100,000 people.

For the first time, scenes were shot in the racing cars, and this has the effect of literally transporting the audience right into the middle of the big race.

Another interesting sequence is filmed in the North Carolina mountains where Rory Calhoun has taken John Gentry to teach him race driving on the winding roads. In the process, they get chased by revenuers who mistakenly think they are "moonshine" runners.

The performances are excellent throughout. Rory Calhoun plays the part of Mitch Cooper, ex-moonshine runner and veteran race driver who has lately been dogged by a string of bad luck.

Alan Hale, son of the greatly loved character actor, Alan Hale, Sr., is certainly a chip off the old block, both in looks and action. He does a great job as Buddy Schaeffer, a racing mechanic who has a lust for living.

Connie Hines has appeared in many top hour-long TV shows, but this is her first feature film. As Rene York, the young wife, she is very attractive and appealing.

John Gentry gives a capable performance as Les York, a young man who operates a repair garage, but wants to be a race driver.

Helen Downey is very convincing in her role as Eve Mason, who is looking for a man---any man.

"Thunder in Carolina" opens at the GALAX THEATRE on Wednesday, August 22.

St. Catherine's School in Richmond, Va., where she was head of Student Government, and she enters Sweet Briar College next month. She operates a branch of the shop in the lobby of Sapphire Valley Inn. John attends Christ School in Arden, N.C., where he was awarded his varsity tennis letter this past Spring.

The Carolina Mountain Shop, which is open the year round, offers for sale distinctive gifts, sweaters, sportswear, handsmocked dresses, toys, handcrafts, stationery, books, candles, and homemade preserves made by Dot's mother in her own kitchen. The shop has the agency for the government topographic maps of Western North Carolina, carrying over 150 Geological Survey maps of Highlands and the surrounding area. The shop also sells mink stoles from the Jennings Fur Farm in Cashiers, making it one of the few shops anywhere that carries everything from mink stoles to chocolate bars!
