LADY L

Romain Gary's best-selling novel, "Lady L" has been made into a captivating movie romp by MGM with Sophia Loren, Paul Newman, and David Niven starring in the fun-adventure of a Parisian laundress who falls in love with and aids a young anarchist who robs the rich to give to the poor and, ironically, ends up as the wife of an aristocratic and wealthy English lord.

One of the most lavishly staged and costumed films of recent years, "Lady L" captures the eye in Panavision and color in sumptuous scenes filmed on locations in Paris, Switzerland, where ice-skating scenes below the slopes of the Moleson Mountains give the illusion of a painting; the famous Promenade des Anglias in Nice, where a thrilling assassination attempt takes place; Monte Carlo and England, where the magnificent 300 year-old Castle Howard was used as the ancestral home of Miss Loren after she becomes Lady Lendale.

"Lady L" plays Friday and Saturday, Sept. 1-2, at the GALAX THEATRE.
