TO EACH HIS OWN

(With apologies to Richard Wagner for the use of his Tannhauser and to all others concerned)

-- MARY H. DUPREE

It has been said that opera belongs to everyone. The Saturday afternoon broadcasts and the spread of good recordings have greatly widened its audience. Its appeal knows no age limit; it is a universal art.

Now, the stories of the operas come from many places and from many periods in history. Some are legends, some are tales of the Middle Ages, others are from modern sources - short stories, novels, and plays. But whatever the source, sooner or later each libretto finds itself on the road to Nashville - Nashville, Tennessee, the operatic center of the world. (CONTINUED ON PAGE 16)

ANNUAL SILVER TEA FRIDAY

On Friday, July 12, the annual Episcopal Silver Tea will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. T. Jenks, from 3 until 5 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The Jenks residence, high on Little Yellow Mountain, was designed and landscaped by Mr. and Mrs. Jenks, and commands an unexcelled view of the Country Club grounds, Lake Sequoyah, the town of Highlands, and Whiteside and Yellow Mountains.

Guests are asked to park their cars at the Episcopal Church, where transportation will be provided to and from the tea, since parking space at the Jenks residence is limited.

Hostesses for the tea will be Mes. J. L. Howe, (CONTINUED ON PAGE ELEVEN)
