

NEW SHOW IN REHEARSAL ON THE HILL

"Wait Until Dark" finished a very successful four-day run on Sunday, July 28th at 4:30 p.m. By 6 p.m. the attractive photographer's apartment had disappeared, all props were neatly assembled for return to their rightful owners, and the decks were cleared for the construction of a sumptuous Riverside Drive apartment in New York City.

The new play is one which cannot fail to please even the fussiest of Theatre goers. "The Odd Couple", by Neil Simon, author of our recent comedy, "Barefoot in the Park", is one of the funniest plays ever to come across the boards. It was first presented at the Plymouth Theatre in New York, in 1965, under the direction of the now famous Mike Nichols. The leads were played by Walter Matthau and Art Carney.

The Highlands Community Theatre is indeed happy to offer its Patrons and friends this unusual, rib-tickling, rollicking Comedy of two divorced men running an impossible household without the help of their much missed wives. A weekly poker game adds a chance for some clever dialogue, and two British sisters are able to supply an unusual and unexpected solution.

Male actors twenty-five or older are still needed to take part in the Poker game. As an added inducement, they will be allowed to keep all winnings. Here is a chance to take an active part in a worthwhile project, and have a good time doing it. Call the theatre, 526-2695, for particulars, or better yet, come on up to see how the set is progressing, and you may not be able to resist that special something that permeates the air.

"The Odd Couple" will open on August 8th and run through August 11. It may well prove the most popular show of the season.
